Wilson Smothers Adroit German 'Peace' Offensive; Reply Short, to Point

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Allies probably will make a concerted reply, refusing the Austrian proposal for a peace conference along the lines of President Wilson's note, it was learned from reliable sources here today.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—"President Wilson speaks for the Allies," declared Lord Northcliffe, writing in the Evening News today relative to the American reply to the Austrian peace proposal.

"The only question here is how the refusal should be couched. A small, timid minority fears a flat rejection will drive Austria back into the arms of Germany but the fact is that Austria has never left them."

REPLY TO STUPID NOTE IS RIGHT AND WISE

BY L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—President Wilson's "prompt and curt refusal of Austria-Hungarian peace bait" will go far toward making the German people understand "that the American people mean to have complete victory," declared Senator Lodge, senate Republican leader and ranking Republican member of the senate foreign relations committee, today in a speech on Austria's note to the Allies suggesting "unbonding" discussions.

"The president's reply to this stupid note will meet, I am sure, with universal approval," said Lodge. "His prompt and curt refusal of the Austro-Hungarian offer was not only right, but wise."

BY CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Germany's latest peace offensive "has been smothered. That was how official Washington today generally regarded President Wilson's summary refusal to join an Austrian "get-together" peace council.

The speed and brevity of the answer are regarded here as calculated to delay the Teuton maneuvering considerably. It is considered Germany, or her tool, Austria, will make further insincere peace efforts later. President Wilson's reply saying flatly that our terms are well known and hence that no conference can be held, is the shortest document this Government has issued in diplomatic correspondence. It was made public only a half an hour after the official Austrian proffer had been presented to Secretary of State Lansing. This is a record for both brevity and speed.

The purpose behind the course was to set an example for all the other Allies, to still any pacifist comment in this country and to show Germany this country is in nowise "bluffing" about its determination to go through until its terms are acceptable. It meant in plain language that if Austria wanted to accept Wilson's terms, notably those of last January, she had a chance anytime, but that she could not get a secret council and she could not place the burden of responsibility for continued war on the Allies.

The effect within Germany and Austria is likely to be the reverse of what the Teutons hoped. They apparently planned to use a rejection to bolster up their army's waning morale on the plea that this is a war of self-defense, with the opponent bent on destruction of Germany.

Wilson, however, robbed the central powers of this plea for he said that he had spoken candidly in the past—and that his terms then are his terms now. These terms would restore Belgium, rob Germany of her stolen gains in Russia, right the wrong done in Alsace-Lorraine, give small nations the right of self-determination, avoid punitive indemnities or annexations, establish a world peace league and free the universe of detrimental influences that could hereafter disrupt world peace.

America proposes to fight on. And having abandoned all hope of a negotiated peace, she will throw 4,000,000 men into the struggle next year to gain a military victory from which she and her Allies can dictate the Wilson terms.

WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE METZ FRONT, Sept. 17.—"Get to Vigneulles by daylight."

This order from the major general of an already famous American division to one of his brigadiers forms the basis for one of the most dramatic and thrilling stories of American participation in the war. It is the story of the final step toward wiping out the St. Mihiel salient.

Acting under the order the men, led by an infantry colonel and a signal corps colonel, personally representing the general, marched and fought through Bois-de-La-Montagne all night long in pitchy darkness and an intermittent pouring rain.

The two colonels, Captain Oberlan and a chauffeur reached Vigneulles at 2:30 Friday morning. They surprised the Germans so completely that a quartet alone captured a number of prisoners. Entering a house they found an entire machine gun crew sleeping. They awoke the boche and informed them they were prisoners.

Then followed a remarkable march to victory. The little cure de clergie of the little village of Rupt-en-Woevre celebrated by ringing the church bells for the first time in four years.

When the Germans seized the village shortly after the beginning of the war they carried off three hostages, whom they later murdered. Since then the villagers had lived in sorrow. On Friday, with tears streaming down his face, the cure asked the American major general if he might ring the bell. Permission was granted. He pulled the bell rope until he was nearly exhausted.

I spent Sunday with the division which made what will be famous as the march to Vigneulles. Then yesterday I went over the roads, through massed and tangled wire and over deep trenches where they had advanced.

The greatest expanse on which the Americans attacked was the southeastern side of the salient. This is the story of the advance on the west side told for the first time.

On the night prior to the attack the Americans spent hours in the rain, cutting masses of wire through which to advance. The barrage started. It was terrifically and blightingly destructive. Then the "jump off."

It rained most of the day. Stiff resistance was encountered in the woods but before evening the objectives were reached on a line standing northeast of Dompierre.

General Pershing, who was directing operations, ordered the division to reach Vigneulles. The major general transmitted the order to his brigadier. The latter promptly assured he would be there. The men of the regiment assigned to the task ate their supper standing by the roadside in the rain. Then they pushed on through more than six kilometers (nearly four miles) of tangled woods. The resistance was slight at first due to the surprise and audacity of such a movement.

The two colonels, the captain and the chauffeurs, made good progress down a trench road. As they approached Vigneulles a burning house lighted up a boche supply train close by. The quartet captured it. The main body of the regiment began arriving shortly afterward and mopped up some more. The entire outfit "breakfasted on the boche."

Supplies were dragged from the boche wagons, boche cooks prepared breakfast and boche bread and coffee and jam were served by boche waiters.

As evidence of the completeness of the clean up the trophies included motor trucks, one gun caisson, a train of 24 light machine guns, storehouse commissaries, including barley, wheat, hay, beer and distilled water, a thousand packages of unopened mail, a ton of dried fish, a movie machine, several hundred rifles, 17 horses and two Mercedes automobiles (with officers enclosed).

A German major, not knowing the location of the American lines, drove into the doughboys' hands. Another officer stopped while fleeing when he was fired on. Both automobiles now are in American service.

When Vigneulles was taken the top of the salient was closed. The happiest Americans in France were those holding the town. They knew another division was also headed toward that point and that the junction there would mean all the remaining boches there would be pocketed.

Pushing out from Vigneulles two observers took 39 prisoners. Another American brought in twelve. He was slightly wounded on the way in and the prisoners carried him the rest of the way.

Prisoners taken in this area say when the barrage was bursting about them Thursday morning their commanders sent word not to worry as there would be no attack in such a storm. Shortly afterward a doughboy stuck his head into the door of a dugout, shouting, "Come out there youse!"

Boche supplies were scattered everywhere in the newly conquered territory through which I passed yesterday. Near one village I saw some

Boosters Bring In Applications to Number of 282 Before Noon

New Members
Reported by committees 218
Coming into office 64
Total 282

Santa Ana has got the habit of going over the top and today sailed over the top in the Chamber of Commerce membership drive before noon. The showing is far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine of the active workers in the organization, and enthusiasm and good cheer reign supreme in the camp of the "men behind the gun."

Reports of the committees were made at noon today at a luncheon at James' and applause greeted the report of each committee chairman as he reported for his committee. A total of 218 was reported for the forenoon's work and these with 64 applications coming into the office voluntarily bring the total for the drive up to noon today to 282.

It was easy to get the 200 new members the directors set as the mark for the drive, and it was done in half a day, with the committees having worked only small portions of the list of names assigned to them.

"It's grand," said President of the Chamber of Commerce John McFadden, and echoed by Secretary J. C. Metzgar.

The number secured today added to the number of the membership rolls made the total membership at noon today 657. The committees are going to try to push the membership to 1000—if they don't do it on the drive, each is going to constitute himself a committee of one on membership and following the drive will continue to urge friends to join until the 1000 mark is attained.

Working This Afternoon
The committees are working this afternoon on the lists assigned to them. Tomorrow everybody will be a free lance in the round up. Everyone seen without one of the popular membership buttons, "I am, are you?" will be accosted and given a chance to join or explain why he cannot become identified with an organization that puts dollars in the pockets of every property owner in the city and immediate vicinity every year.

"We have reached our goal by noon," said Chairman John McFadden at the luncheon, following the reports of the committees. "It is a grand showing and I am well pleased. We haven't started to hit the high spots yet. We have over-reached the mark we started for. Shall we continue? What is the attitude of the committees? ('We'll keep going,' came from all parts of the room.) All right, we will keep going this afternoon, and my committee will stand for twenty-five more new ones."

"Tomorrow we will go out and strike everyone who does not wear a buttoning country districts that haven't been touched. I met a man yesterday residing in the country who said that our interests are interlocking, that the interests of those in the country were the interests of those in the city—that one's interests are the other's."

1000 Members Slogan
"When we get through with this drive, we want everyone working on it to constitute himself a committee of one on membership and keep going until we have reached a membership of 1000 and have placed our chamber in position to take up the great work that will come before it after the war. It is only with such membership that we can accomplish big things—and big things are in store for this city."

McFadden expressed his appreciation of the splendid work of the committees. The committees will meet at noon tomorrow at James'.

McFadden's committee led in the number of new applications secured by the committees. His number was 21, while F. L. Andrews' committee was second, with 20 names. Mit Phillips reported nine for his committee—"with fifty more coming up."

Elmer Curtis reported sixteen and went Phillips one better by reporting that his committee had seventy-five coming up.

Reports by Committees
The following are the totals reported by each committee, the names of the chairmen only being used:

John McFadden, 21; F. L. Andrews, 20; George Kryhl, 4; G. E. Peters, 12;

San Juan Capistrano Man Who Went Away In Draft May Be Prisoner

Today's casualty list has the following:
Missing in Action—Charles D. Rea, San Juan Capistrano, Cal.

Charles D. Rea is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rea of San Juan Capistrano, in which town Charles was born on December 22, 1895.

Charles D. Rea is the second drafted man from Orange County District No. 1 who has been listed by the War Department in the casualties. The first was Lew Wallace of Orange, listed about a month ago, as wounded.

"Missing in action" generally means that the man has been taken prisoner. Rea registered on June 5, 1917, as 21 years of age. He was entrained by the local board for Camp Lewis on October 3, 1917. He was raised at San Juan Capistrano, and lived there all his life up to the time he went away to war. His mother is a member of the Manriquez family of the mission valley. Rea worked on farms around San Juan Capistrano. At the time he registered he was employed by Daneri Bros.

He left Camp Kearny bound for Europe only a few weeks ago.

Word that Rea was listed as missing in action was received by Rea's parents at San Juan Capistrano several days ago. The father, James Rea, has wired to Washington, D. C., asking for further particulars concerning the matter, but there are evidently no further particulars available at Washington.

GIRLS BURNED TO DEATH IN BUTTON PLANT FIRE TODAY

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 17.—Fifteen persons were reported burned to death in the destruction of the New Jersey button factory this afternoon. The bodies of nine girls were found on the ninth floor of the building.

Two victims died on arrival at the city hospital. Many others were taken to different hospitals. Twelve bodies have been moved to undertaking rooms.

Girls jumped from windows, being unable to reach the fire escapes. The fire spread so rapidly that practically all exits by stairways were cut off.

One of the girls who escaped said 150 men were employed in the factory.

When the fire bell rang, girls on the first and second floors ran out, thinking a strike was in progress. The girls on the third floor did not hear the fire gong and were trapped in the carding room.

Many of the girls jumped from the third floor.

One fireman said that when he with police and other firemen went into one room they found two girls dead, their bodies being burned to a crisp, little being left but their skulls. There was absolutely no means of identification. They were huddled together and evidently had tried to escape in a crowd but were caught, suffocated and burned to death.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE METZ FRONT, Sept. 17.—(2 p. m.)—Gradual progress of the American line at the right and left extremities continues as the Germans fall back toward the Metz defenses.

Aerial activity is somewhat reduced as the result of unfavorable weather. It is established the Germans already have disbanded 108 infantry battalions equivalent to twelve divisions to make up the losses resulting from the year's fighting.

Five thousand women are being mobilized for certain auxiliary service. Boys of 15 also are being used.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—American troops have reached Vandieres, within a mile and a half of the German front, La Liberté announced today.

Vandieres is in the Moselle valley, three miles north of Pont au Mousson.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Further progress toward St. Quentin was reported by Field Marshal Haig today.

The British also improved their positions in Flanders and north of Lens. "Our troops made progress yesterday in the direction of Le Verguier, northwest of St. Quentin," the statement said. "We improved our positions slightly yesterday and during the night northwest of Huloch (between La Basse and Lens) and northeast of Neuve Chapelle (north of La Basse)."

WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE METZ FRONT, Sept. 17.—Fighting near the Hindenburg line has largely been transferred from the ground to the air.

With the boche hurrying air reinforcements here, the concentration between the Meuse and the Moselle of air fighters of all types is resulting in constant air duels. Anti-aircraft guns are also continually barking along the whole front.

Numerous boche planes have been brought down. The American and French pursuit machines are keeping the enemy confined practically behind his own lines. Whenever the Germans cross the front they are speedily chased back.

Meantime, day and night, bombing by Americans, Italians and British continues active. The Americans made nine bombing trips yesterday.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Serbian offensive continues with complete success, it was officially announced today.

The Bulgarian front has been pierced to the depth of more than five miles on a front of over twelve miles. More than 3000 prisoners and 24 guns have been captured. The French and Serbian casualties are small.

The remainder of the village of Gradisniza has been taken and the important ridges of Sokol, Trnavaska, Rovovska and Paradzasta are in the Allied hands. A Jugo-Slav division has reached Kozjak.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The whole Serbian army is united and on Serbian soil now as a result of the Dobro-Polje victory against the Bulgars. This victory gave the Second Serb army a chance it had struggled long to obtain and it had robbed the Bulgarians of positions they had held tenaciously for more than two years.

ATHENS, Sept. 16. (Delayed.)—Greek troops have advanced from two to three miles on a 10-mile front in the Struma sector between the Vardar and Lake Doiran, capturing several villages, according to a despatch from Salonika today.

The attack was a complete surprise. The Greeks lost only two officers and ten men, while the Bulgarian losses were extremely heavy.

The French attacked and captured Vetrenik, Dobropolje and Sokol, three vitally important mountain positions which the Bulgarians had been fortifying for two years.

NEWSPAPERMAN CONFESSES TO WIFE MURDER

Chas. Chapin Declares Tried to Kill Self, No Recollection of Deed

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Admitting that he killed his wife but declaring he had no recollection of the deed, according to the police, Charles E. Chapin, city editor of the New York Evening World, walked into the West 66th street station here early today and gave himself up. He declared all memory of his crime had passed from him until he purchased a morning paper and read that the police were searching for him.

It was hardly dawn today when he appeared at the police station.

"I killed my wife yesterday morning in the Cumberland Hotel," he said, the police declare.

The full story of the crime and of the subsequent wanderings of the man, who is declared to have had one of the keenest brains in the newspaper business, did not come out but Chapin said he had tried to take his own life. Bits of the tragedy were pieced from statements made as Chapin talked with a station patrolman after the captain and detective had finished questioning him. He held his head down while he was being "booked" at the station until he was asked his business. Then his head snapped up and he answered proudly:

"Editor."

He declared he didn't want to see anyone. Particularly he drew the line against newspapermen.

Then he went to the captain's office, where he sat with his head in his hands at times, at others pacing up and down the room, his arms moving about wildly.

"Who are you," asked the station patrolman.

"I'm Mr. Chapin. I killed my wife," he replied, the police allege.

The rest of the scene was described as follows:

The patrolman asked: "How?"

"With this"—he pulled a six-chambered revolver from his pocket. One chamber had been exploded.

As the patrolman examined the weapon Chapin reached into another pocket.

"Here's another," he said, and exhibited an automatic pistol.

"Why did you kill her?" asked the patrolman.

He flung his arms over his head and replied:

"No reason whatever."

He had wandered about town, he declared, on subway and elevated trains. He said he went to Prospect Park yesterday and aimed the revolver at his head but saw a policeman and did not shoot. Later he said he fired a shot when the policeman went away.

Then Chapin said he bought a morning paper, read of the search for himself and is alleged to have recalled that he had killed his wife, according to the police.

Mrs. Chapin was found dead in her bed some hours after her husband had left their rooms. He told friends she was ill but when Don C. Seitz, business manager of the World, received a letter from Chapin saying he was going to kill both himself and his wife the Chapin room was entered. Two notes were found, one of them saying Chapin had killed his wife as she lay asleep and intended killing himself. Mrs. Chapin was Miss Nellie Beebie of Chicago. The couple was married thirty-nine years ago. Chapin had been city editor of the World for many years and was one of the best known newspapermen in the country.

enemy tanks. They were merely made of netting and stove pipes were sticking out for guns. But at a distance they appeared like real tanks.

Everywhere were evidences of the long boche occupation. There were permanent stone memorial fountains and elaborate cemeteries with numerous carved headstones, obviously from Germany.

Along the roads tanks were trundling back from the fight with smiling American faces peeping through the portholes. American trucks were carrying out women and children from villages where they had been held prisoner for four years. All were laughing and waving greetings.

UNITED STATES IS NOT DECEIVED BY AUSTRIAN BLEAT

the kind of a conference proposed in the Austro-Hungarian note.

The United Press learned today this is substantially the Allied attitude toward the communication from Vienna. The major details of the Allies' peace terms have already been formulated. Most of them have been stated. The more intricate and detailed questions, particularly with regard to Russia, the Balkans and Turkey, are now being studied in the Allied foreign offices and their positions thereon are in the process of formulation.

When the central forces yield to military and naval pressure and show reason to make a general conference worth while, the Allied and American delegates will consider the Teutonic pleas.

OUR POSITION IS PLAIN,
ONLY ONE REPLY—WILSON
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — The United States Government will definitely and emphatically reject the proposal of the Austro-Hungarian Government for a peace discussion. This was announced by Secretary Lansing, with the authority of President Wilson, after he had read the text of the proposal. Mr. Lansing made this statement:

"I am authorized by the President to state that the following will be the reply of this Government to the Austro-Hungarian note proposing an unofficial conference of belligerents:

"The Government of the United States feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the imperial Austro-Hungarian Government. It has repeatedly and with entire candor stated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace and can and will entertain no proposal for a conference upon a matter concerning which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

LONDON PAPERS INDORSE BALFOUR'S REPLY

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Without exception, London's morning newspapers today placed their endorsement on the unofficial reply to Austria's peace proposals as voiced by Foreign Secretary Balfour when he declared there would be no peace on such a foundation. The Daily News, which had urged consideration of the invitation of "unbinding" peace discussions, declared Balfour's attitude to be reasonable.

"Balfour's attitude is perfectly reasonable," said this paper. "It does bring up the question of whether the reply shall be unqualified rejection or unqualified acceptance, but what reply is best calculated to extract a positive gain from the situation, particularly to frustrate the enemy's evident purpose of making political capital at home out of a flat rejection by the Allies."

"A compromise is impossible," declared the Times, "Balfour has no doubt as to the true character of Austrian 'peace'."

"Balfour has exposed the true purpose of the offer," said the Mail.

"Balfour summarized the viewpoint not only of the state but also of the Entente peoples," the Express said.

AMERICAN FIGHTING MEN MOVE CLOSER TO HUN BORDER

Germans Fear Another Disastrous Pocket; Withdraw to Straighten Front

BY J. W. T. MASON
(United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Fearing that General Pershing is trying to create another pocket along the St. Mihiel front, the Germans have given way in the center of the line for a distance of three miles or more.

Abandonment of territory tends to straighten the German front before Metz. The Americans, however, have begun a new movement at Doncourt to drive another wedge in the line. If the operation succeeds it will create two pockets, the first in the center of the front once more and the second about the important town of Fresnes. The salient formations are now playing an important part in General Pershing's strategy as they have done for the last two months in General Foch's plans.

By this process the Americans are moving closer and closer to the German frontier. General Pershing has between ten and twelve miles to cover before his army is drawn up along the German boundary directly facing Metz.

The fortress itself will then be subjected to its first intensive bombardment of the war. Meanwhile the Americans have begun to progress along the principal railway running from Verdun to Metz. They have about 18 miles to go along this line before they can cut it at Conflans-en-Darssy, where it begins to feed the German front. Once Conflans is reached Metz usefulness as a supply station for the Germans in France will be gravely compromised.

In the midst of these promises of large American successes the central powers have begun their long anticipated peace offensive.

Austria's purpose in proposing a "non-binding conference" was to prevent the attainment of a democratic peace. A democratic peace is one brought about by public confession of defeat by the military camarilla of Germany. A reactionary peace is one arranged at a private conference by a handful of men who will thereby be encouraged to continue using the peoples of the world as pawns in the bloody game of secret diplomacy.

The most subtle play yet made in the game is Germany's tentative offer to evacuate Belgium in the immediate future if Belgium remains neutral to the end of the war. Von Hindenburg now sees that he has got to get out of Belgium anyway to shorten his front and defend German territory against American millions.

If, therefore, he can make a bargain with the Allies to evacuate without disturbance it will be a big military victory for him. If at the same time he can pledge Belgium to remain thereafter neutral, the Allies cannot use western Belgium as a base for invading Germany. This crafty program shows the kind of a peace the Germans would try to get if they were allowed to negotiate in a secret conference.

YANK FIGHTERS HAVE NO TIME TO TALK OF PEACE PLAN

Finish the Job First and Talk
Afterward, Say Wounded
American Soldiers

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 17.—"No! No! No!" That is the reply of American fighting men—who have fought and been wounded and know what they are fighting for—to the Austrian proposal to talk things over.

In certain American hospitals I talked with more than a score of men who were wounded at St. Mihiel, the Vesle and at Soissons. I asked them what they thought of the Austrian peace move from the standpoint of men doing the fighting. Of twenty-three men interviewed all except said: "Let's do the job first and talk afterward."

The other two said they had not seen a newspaper and would not make any statement until they knew what it was all about.

"I think it's only another peace dodge," said one rancher from California. "We've got to finish this job while we're at it. I live 6000 miles from here. Now I can't be coming back here every ten years or so. We'd better finish it now."

Everyone agreed in the belief that the Austrian proposition is inspired by Germany, that it is lacking in sincerity and is made for its effect on world opinion.

"There's something tricky about it," declared a big miner from Northern Michigan. "I'm fed up on the war. It's a dirty job. But we've got to stick until they talk turkey. We came into the war for a certain purpose. We won't quit until it is done."

"It looks like this to me," said a farmer from Ohio. "If a man stabbed you in the back, then after you'd finally gotten him down in a corner, wallowing him good and plenty, he'd said, 'Now let's talk this over,' and he wants to keep the knife while he talks, I'd keep right on wallowing and say nothing."

All the men displayed a remarkable perception of what they are fighting for, which bodes ill for Germany.

GERMANY WHIPPED AND IS SQUEALING

BY LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 17.—When Austria's peace proposal became known here, I asked a high officer in a position to know what the sentiment was throughout the army in his opinion.

He grinned.

I asked a general who had just finished dinner.

He grinned.

I asked a private just back from the front line.

He grinned.

Each said Austria's move was German inspired, the private putting it: "I don't know anything about Austria, but it's easy to see the fix Germany is in on this front. She is whipped and she is squealing."

The general's view was slightly different.

"We can't say yet that Germany is beaten," he said, "but she sees defeat coming. This is a military move. Germany's hope, so far as the British are concerned, is to prevent being compelled to evacuate the strong Hindenburg defenses this fall. She wants to keep us in the barren, unsheltered ground this side of the line all winter. Maybe she has something to say worth listening to, but if we agree to listen we mustn't stop fighting in the meantime."

The other officer mentioned, said: "We must read the Austrian offer in the light of the proposal of von Payer, who certainly was authorized to speak in Germany's name. He talks in the tone of a victor. We know now who will be the victor eventually. Therefore, you would have self-presumed victors trying to reach an agreement. It couldn't be done."

"Whatever happens we mustn't cease fighting until there is a reason."

Recently captured letters and prisoner's statements show the utter depression of the German troops. A number of letters openly talk "revolution"—a word that a German's vocabulary heretofore was not supposed to contain. In contrast to this attitude one has only to see the British armies afield and on the roads. The armies seem to grow bigger weekly. There are more men, horses, guns and tanks.

Their spirits seem to grow lighter and much stronger. On parade they seem as young and eager as the Yanks, who cheer them on while awaiting their own chance to help make victory final.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift & Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

MARSEILLAISE TO BE SUNG HERE TONIGHT

For First Time In City National Songs of Two Allies On Program

BY R. L. BISBY

Tonight I expect for the first time in the city of Santa Ana, the national airs of two of the Allies will be sung at the same performance. "The Star Spangled Banner" for the United States and the "Marseillaise" for our beloved sister republic of France. France has been more than a sister to America—she has been a brother—in that in 1776 she gave this country men, arms and ammunition in order that the Stars and Stripes might fly over a free people. She helped us attain our freedom at that time and during all these years it has been maintained and we have reared under its folds a brand of people such as no nation of the world has ever looked upon before. A people whose sons upon the battle fields of France are standing shoulder to shoulder with the poilus of France for freedom, not for themselves, but for the entire world and many times I doubt not since we have entered the war the patriotic blood of our boys has been stirred by the beautiful strains of the Marseillaise.

Tonight, Miss Marie Renger will sing this song for us and thinking that the public of Santa Ana might like to know something of the history of the Marseillaise, it is given below.

"The Marseillaise" by Fitzgerald

The wild pulse-stirring, revolutionary song, "La Chant des Marseillais"—it was called "patriotic"—which has had so much effect on political and social life in more countries than France, was originally written by Claude Joseph Rouget de Lisle in the winter of 1792. I say "originally" because many versions appeared almost immediately after its production, so popular did it become with the soldiers and peasants alike, when several hundred sturdy revolutionists from Marseilles marched in to Paris to its strains. The Parisians took it up immediately, and the Austrian and Prussian regulars were beaten again and again by the ragged sansculottes to the tune, as every reader of Carlyle's "History of the French Revolution" knows. Curiously enough the "Marseillaise" is still the official patriotic hymn in France under the present most Philistine of republics! And we, on this side of the channel, duly recognized the fact of its being the national melody by playing it at the Mansion House during a banquet to a French minister in the year of grace and loyalty, 1893.

Wonderful History

The Marseillaise has a wonderful history. There are several variants as to the circumstances under which it was composed and written, for Rouget de Lisle wrote both words and music. Our author, says one version, was a young artillery officer at Strasbourg, who was imbued with considerable poetic and musical talent, and under the combined influence of love and patriotism he wrote the hymn one night in the house of his sweetheart's father during the severe winter of 1792. The young maiden who had inspired him with the idea shed tears upon hearing the stirring strains at once conveying the exact prevailing spirit of the whole of France, the song quickly spread from Strasbourg to Alsace, where the melody was learned by the Marseilles troops, then on their way to Paris. The piece created a tremendous furore in the French capital and soon the refrain was being sung and played all over the country. This is only partly true, because there is some doubt to the sweatshirt incident. The real facts are as follows, though his claims to both words and music have often been disputed: Rouget de Lisle was greatly esteemed among his friends for his poetical and musical gifts, and was a particular friend of the family of the Baron de Dietrich, a noble Alsatian then mayor of Strasbourg.

Last Bottle of Wine

"One night during the winter of 1792 the young officer was seated at the table of this family. The hospitable fare of the baron had been so reduced by the calamities and necessities of war that nothing," says Mme. Fanny Raymond Ritter, "could be provided for dinner that day except garrison bread and a few slices of ham. Dietrich smiled sadly at his friend, and lamenting the poverty of the fare he had to offer, declared he would sacrifice the last remaining bottle of Rhine wine in his cellar if he thought it would aid de Lisle's poetic invention, and inspire him to compose a patriotic song for the public ceremonies shortly to take place in Strasbourg. The ladies approved, and sent for the last bottle of wine of which the house could boast. After dinner de Lisle sought his room and though it was bitterly cold, he at once sat down at the piano, and between reciting and playing and singing eventually composed La Marseillaise, and thoroughly exhausted, fell asleep with his head on his desk. In the morning he was able to recall every note of the song, immediately wrote it down and carried it to his friend, Baron Dietrich.

Enchanted With Song

"Every one was enchanted with the song, which aroused the greatest enthusiasm. A few days later it was publicly given in Strasbourg and thence it was conveyed by the multitude to the insurgents of Marseilles, and of its popularity we know. De Lisle's mother was a most devoted Royalist, and asked 'What do people mean by associating our name with the revolutionary hymn which those brigands sing?' De Lisle himself proscribed as a Royalist, when fleeing for his life in the Jura mountains, heard it as a menace of death, and recognizing the well known air, asked his guide what it was called. It had been christened the 'Marseillaise Hymn,' and was so called until hymns went out of fashion, when it was known by the one word. In his late years de Lisle is said to have been reduced to the utmost poverty. A short time before his death, when all hopes and ambitions had been extinguished in him by age, he was decorated with the ribbon of the Legion of Honor. Soon after this tardy recognition several pensions were conferred upon him which he did not live long to enjoy. He was the author of many essays, songs, dramas, and musical compositions. He died in 1836. Originally there were words to only six stanzas but at least a dozen more were added by other hands about the same time."

SAVE BABY FROM OCEAN

SEAL BEACH, Sept. 17.—The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Eleventh street, came near drowning when one of the large waves rolled up over the bulkhead in front of the bath house where the child was playing in the sand with another little girl about the same age. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were sitting on the walk only a step away, and as the wave struck the children and started to carry them out into the ocean, Mr. Smith and another man jumped into the water up to their waists and saved them.

Mr. Smith lost his watch while rescuing the child but later found it as the tide receded.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Adv.

THIN PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

How It Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force in Two Weeks

"Take plain bitro-phosphate" is the advice of physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more

Miss Josephine Davis, reporting her own experience with BITRO-PHOSPHATE, says: "It is remarkable what I did for me. After a few days I began to regain my strength, felt full of life, was able to sleep soundly and all my little troubles seemed to disappear. I gained twelve pounds in four weeks."

phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION.—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its remarkable flesh growing properties it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

AUTO BANDITS WOUND SAN FRANCISCO MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Three automobile bandits early today shot and severely wounded Walter Pomeroy, an Olympic club swimmer, after Pomeroy had given them a hard five minute hand-to-hand battle.

Pomeroy is in a hospital with a bullet in his left shoulder. He will recover.

The bandits stopped Pomeroy's automobile on Fell street about 1 o'clock. Instead of throwing up his hands when ordered to do so Pomeroy climbed from his machine and made a flying tackle. For five minutes he had the best of the argument. Then one would-be robber pressed a revolver against his shoulder and fired. Pomeroy dropped and his assailants fled.

Three bandits answering the description of Pomeroy's assailants at midnight held up L. H. Bloom and robbed him of $5. Bloom said the license number on their automobile was 34021, which is listed as that of J. F. Harris of Watsonville. Police believe they stole the car in Watsonville.

"FATHERS' AND SONS' DAY"

We have celebrated such a day in the past, but Registration day gave it a new and deep significance. When eighteen and forty-five stand shoulder to shoulder and heart to heart for a decent world, there will be a new sympathy and understanding between fathers and sons that has too often been lacking.

Sometimes they have been strangers to each other. Father has been the stern head of the family, the disciplinarian, the seat of authority, "the policeman," if you please. Son has been the problem, the sometimes wayward, willful and too independent junior member of the firm of Household and Company. More frequently there is an entire absence of partnership. But now they are comrades and mates in the great adventure. "The old man" will no longer be strange and unapproachable and impossible to the boy. He will be "bunkie" and "pal" and "chum." The boy will no longer be the careless, disrespectful "Young America" of whom we have heard. He will loom large in the uniform as "the man" on whom Uncle Sam depends.

This will be good for both of them. Perhaps father has counted himself out of the war. His yearnings to enter the service had met with rebuff and refusal. He knew he could fight. He felt the spirit of the soldier struggling within his soul. His wife longed to see "her man" in uniform. His boy wondered if "dad" was good only for the junk pile. If he was

We Want Your Drug Trade

Another Reason Why We Think We Deserve It

(Heart-to-Heart Talk No. 2)

In our first talk we merely pointed out the fact that We Want Your Drug Trade and that THAT fact was one good reason why We Deserve Your Drug Trade. Incidentally we tried to impress you with the importance of securing ABLE and CONSCIENTIOUS service in the Drug Trade.

Now let us give you another reason why we think we deserve your Drug Trade.

Of course the most important part of your Drug Trade is the filling of your prescriptions.

It is only necessary to suggest the dire consequences of carelessness or incompetency in this branch of the Drug Trade. The only SAFE druggist is the thoroughly educated and trained pharmacist who is also a careful, conscientious and intelligent man. He must be physically and morally clean and orderly, and progressive in thought and habit. An out-of-date druggist may prove to be as fatal to your health or your life as though he were incompetent or dishonest.

An inspection of our store and an interview with our pharmacists will convince you that our prescription service is as good as the best in the world.

This is another good reason why we deserve your Drug Trade. And there are others!

Yours for Safety and Service,

MATEER'S DRUG STORE.

ready for Dr. Osler and the chloroform route!

Registration day has routed all such nonsense. "Dad" is a "fighting man." Uncle Sam and the world call for the splendid contribution of his mature manhood. His boy is saying proudly "me and dad," and it may not be long until it will be "dad and me."

Mother, too, has visions of her own importance. She is shyly accom-ulating patterns of garments for ice-creams and farinettes and conductorettes and motorettes. She is just as capable as Englishwomen, who have done these things. And daughter, also, is considering uniforms for nurses and Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. service. She will soon get in the game.

What a changing world it is! Uncle Sam may soon be after the whole family!

of 500 S. & H. Green Trading Stamps

Why do I trade at Leipsics?

Because Leipsics's have the best of merchandise, and if some article is not in stock, it can quickly be obtained from the Redlands store.

Because Leipsics's prices are always what they should be for the quality of goods purchased, and always the same to everyone. No charging Mrs. Brown two dollars for the same article Mrs. Smith can buy for one dollar at Leipsics's.

Because Leipsics's is a "Daylight Store." One can "see" what one buys, and get correct shades, etc.

Because Leipsics's give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps which are a distinct discount to the customers on every 10 cents in cash she spends.

Because Mr. Leipsic is always "on the job," is kind and courteous and always knows his patrons wherever they meet, and has a cheery "How-do-you-do" for each and every one.

And lastly, because Leipsics's has one of the most efficient and pleasant corps of salespeople in the city. Every one has his or her employer's interest at heart and is courteous to the trade. Of course, we all have our favorite clerk. Personally, I will pass every dry goods store in Santa Ana for the privilege (yes, I said privilege) of trading at Leipsics's with Miss Bertha Crawford. She knows her stock, always has helpful suggestions for the doubtful, is patient with the impatient customers, and has her employer's interest at heart—in short, she is second to none in her particular niche in the business life of Santa Ana.

NO "SCRAPS OF PAPER" FOR OURS

Of course the president would spurn the treacherous "peace" proposal of Germany staged in Vienna. And equally of course the people of this country are with him—every mother's son and daughter of them.

Whatever the original impulses and aims, the aim of the Allied peoples now is to put Germany out of war business, permanently. It is for this that the men at the front are fighting and upon this American sentiment has certainly solidified.

Permanent peace, with a party bred, born and reared for violation of all the rights of and obligations to God and men, can only be secured by a fight to a finish. To compromise would be downright folly and dishonor. To temporize is to give advantage to the enemy.

Nobody understands the desires and determination of the Allied peoples better than do the autocrats of Germany. The kaiser has repeatedly declared that the Allies seek to exterminate Germany. He is correct, only he cannot conceive of a Germany stripped of power to enforce her will upon other peoples. He cannot conceive of a Germany happy and prosperous through any other policy than that which might be right. He believes that any sort of treachery, outrage and brutality to advance that policy is justifiable. It is to put down such a Germany that the Allied peoples sacrifice and fight. It is the only job and all honest, intelligent people know that it cannot be done by signing "scraps of paper."

RUSSIA "FOUND," WHAT NEXT?

There is some satisfaction in feeling that the Bolshevik movement did not fool the American people a little bit. From the day that Lenin and Trotsky took hold in Russia "Bolshevik" has been an opprobrious term in America. Despite the fact that the news from Russia lacked reliability, the American people sized up Lenin and Trotsky as "in it for what they could make" and their movement as pro-German. It was really one of those remarkable solidifications of public opinions upon general principles rather than clear information and understanding.

The authentic disclosure that the Bolshevik government has always been the kept tools of Germany is not surprising but it is a good thing because it clears up some Russian matters beyond doubt, enabling other nations to form their policies in respect to Russia with definiteness. It also turns a bright light on the wisdom of President Wilson. His attitude toward the people of Russia has been just exactly right. Moreover, it has had a dominating effect upon the attitude of other belligerent nations toward that people.

America has been Russia's watching, waiting, ready friend until Russia could "find herself." Russia must now have found herself aplenty. Her Bolshevik government is corrupt and pro-German. What next?

Ordinarily, a people, upon discovering that they have been sold out to foreign bribees, would rise en masse, and move against the foul government. But the vast majority of Russians are very hungry and without arms, while their suborned governors have foreign money and a monopoly of the armament, and it is probable that there will be nothing like a general rising against the Bolsheviks.

The question is, will the anti-German nations enable the betrayed Russians to whip Germany and her Bolshevik allies out of Russia?

As to man-power, Germany is already badly beaten on the western front. Her only reservoir of man-power is Russia. If it is advanced that Allied assistance to the anti-Bolshevik might drive the multitude of Bolsheviks into Germany's ranks, it can also be advanced that if they are not so driven, Germany can get them by bribery. What other course is there than prompt, determined action in arming and supplying Russians who will fight Germany? Japan can do much. China can do something. The Pacific ocean is wide open to America.

A ringing declaration by President Wilson would seem to be timely. It would be almighty important, for, we believe, what he says about Russia will go.

ANAESTHESIA

A recent decision of the Chinese government to turn over to the American Red Cross for medicinal purposes all the remaining stores of opium in the country brings a sharp reminder of the contribution of America to the general progress in the use of narcotics and anaesthetics.

A narcotic is not the same as an anaesthetic. But both are used to relieve pain.

A reference in a recent book to "the German scientists who have spent weary hours studying out combinations of matter that can be given as anaesthetics" shows a popular misconception to the effect that Germany is responsible for the development of anaesthesia. Nothing could be further from the truth. Almost all of this progress is due to British and American physicians.

A preparation of hemp was used in China in the third century by a surgeon to make his patients insensible during surgical operations. Hugo de Lucca was using mandragora for the same purpose in Italy in the thirteenth century. These were scattered instances, however. In the eighteenth century chemistry was given an impetus by the Englishman Priestly, and after him the list is purely of English and American physicians, dentists and scientists who were interested in the relief of human pain. Much of the work was done in Boston, where there stands a statue to the discoverers of the value of anaesthesia. It is fitting, therefore, that from China, where drugs were first used to alleviate suffering and facilitate recovery, to America, which did the major part of applying the principle, should go the stores of opium to be used for its proper purposes.

The evil and vitiating use of opium in the world is being stamped out. Its distribution for beneficent ends can be in no better hands than those of the Red Cross.

Going out of the beer business on December 1 won't really be much of a change for the breweries. They've been so starved by lack of fuel and raw materials lately that many of them will welcome the death-blow, and turn as hopefully as may be to other lines of work.

Maybe, as Chancellor von Hertling says, the "most precious treasures of German political life" are the "dynasty and crown," but we wouldn't give a plugged pfennig for them.

Foe Must Be Exterminated

The Rev. George A. Griffith, a Baltimore Protestant Episcopal clergyman serving as chaplain with the Fifth Field Artillery, the regiment that fired America's first shot in the war, has written a letter to Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs, a prominent Baltimorean, which was printed in full in the current issue of the Manufacturers' Record, in which he discusses at length cruelties inflicted by the Germans upon civilians and soldiers.

"I feel," he says, "that I express the sentiment of those who have seen and heard over here, when I say that were I in America today, priest as I am, I should do my best to have put to death any boche in America or any so-called American who would apologize in any way for what the boche has done."

"All that you have heard in America about them does not approximate the truth. There are little children right here in France with their little stumps of hands; there were some not far from my last camp, and young men with all the fingers of their right hand cut off. The other day a British officer and three Tommies told me that a short time ago they went as an advance party into a little village from which the boche had been driven back, and in a large room there were four young Canadians crucified, one on each wall of the room. Also, when I was with the British they told me the boches had taken young Belgian and French girls into their first line trenches and tortured them until their screams made the Scotch and the Canadians so crazed they would go over into the machine gun nests which the boche had set up, using the women's screams as a decoy."

"And I have it on the word of a British officer that they have stood (the officers) with guns leveled at their men to keep them from going over when the women scream, and being needlessly slaughtered. I cannot tell you what the Tommies told me they found when they drove these hell-hounds out of these positions; it is too awful even to think about. I also have it on the word of one of the greatest French Abbés that the boches were specially instructed to destroy convents—and kill or outrage the nuns—and he says that all through France and Belgium are ruined convents, and that the nuns were given to the soldiers to be outraged in the camps."

"These are not isolated cases nor abnormal conditions which prevail here and there where troops were drunk or without restraint. Go along the French or British front, and the only conclusion you arrive at is that they are just the ground principle of boche efficiency in action. I don't believe there is one of us here who wouldn't like to be home. But there is not one of us here, I believe, who does not want to see Bocheiland devastated from one end to the other, with Berlin a blackened ruin—with the boche exterminated, militarists and all, before we come home."

"It is American blood that is flowing now, and God grant it may give America some strength to realize what we are up against. To talk of terms until the boche is exterminated is to league with Satan for a corner in hell. Privations, sacrifices! What can you do at home to compare with what these men of ours are doing over here? Meatless days, wheatless days, sugarless days, good women knitting, benefits for the Red Cross—or all your social diversions with a charitable object sandwiched in!"

"When you are out on a shell-swept hill and the shells are going by like bats out of hell, as the soldiers say, and it's dark as the grave, and every man, God bless him! stands strong and true, camouflaging all his own feelings for your sake and for the sake of what he has back home, meatless days and wheatless days, and Liberty Bond campaigns seem cheap as your support of him in such an hour."

Politics Adjourned

From the San Bernardino Sun

It may be the wire misrepresented National Chairman Hays of the Republican committee when he was quoted as saying that Democratic leaders "would even end the war with any kind of a compromise, if that would insure continuance of the Democratic party in power." Mr. Hays denies using that language, and nothing that he has said at any other time would even remotely suggest that he would voice such criticism as this. But when Secretary Tumulty "called" him, the president's private secretary started something.

He wired Mr. Hays, asking if he used such language. Mr. Hays very promptly replied that he did not. But along with that he said some things that the country otherwise would never have known about, and among other things he cited the following:

In the special election in Wisconsin the Democratic machine leaders published advertisements, undenied since by them, addressed to the soldiers at Camp Grant, as follows:

"To the Wisconsin soldiers at Camp Grant: Tuesday, April 2:

"You are entitled to vote for United States senator from Wisconsin to succeed Senator Paul D. Husting.

"President Wilson, your commander in chief, desires all loyal Americans to vote for Joseph E. Davies for United States senator.

"Davies' election means joy at Washington and gloom at Berlin.

"Davies' defeat means gloom at Washington and joy at Berlin."

And Mr. Hays commented to the effect that he regarded this "as an infamous prostitution of all patriotic properties and the grossest violation of the plainest civil duty," and also added that from such actions as this "those Democratic leaders will go to any lengths to carry the senate and the house."

Now, if Mr. Tumulty is really in earnest in seeing that "politics is adjourned," it might be in order for him to address certain Democratic leaders in Wisconsin. For them to state, as they did, that the election of a Republican senator from Wisconsin would occasion gloom in Washington and joy in Berlin is about the most marked instance of using the war for politics that has come to our attention.

Incidentally, Davies was defeated.

AMUSEMENTS

"Rough and Ready," Princess William Farnum's fight before the motion picture camera was always a seven-day wonder. In "Rough and Ready," his newest de luxe production, at the Princess tonight and tomorrow, there is a two-handed battle forming the thrilling climax of a thrilling drama that will go down in celluloid history, because of its vivid realism.

Bill Stratton, the great, strong character portrayed by Mr. Farnum, is in "The Nugget," the picturesque social center of Yellow Gulch, an equally picturesque village in the Far North. Bill's suspicions are aroused against the squareness of the game of faro there and his eyes are riveted on the faro box. When he sees the blank look of utter ruthlessness which passes over the face of one of the losers—a comparative youngster—he is unable to restrain himself. Fair play is a cardinal point in his creed.

Stratton pulls out his knife and pins the sleeve of the crooked dealer to the table with a quick thrust. Everyone is thunderstruck as Bill says, pointing to the right card:

"You play that card. You can't deal seconds in this game."

JAY B. TAYLOR IS RECOMMENDED FOR CROIX DE GUERRE

Friends of Jay B. Taylor, who is seeing active service in France and who writes of his participation in the big American drive, undoubtedly the Chateau-Thierry drive, will be pleased to learn that he has been recommended for the Croix de Guerre.

This is a rare distinction and one which is conferred only upon those who have distinguished themselves by exceptional valor. Sergeant Taylor is a graduate of the Santa Ana High School and resided with his parents on North Greenleaf street. His present address is Co. B, 2nd U. S. Engineers, First Battalion, American Expeditionary Forces, via New York City.

GREAT WAR SPEECH AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH THIS EVENING

J. Stitt Wilson will deliver an address tonight at 8 o'clock at the First M. E. church on "Winning the War," with special reference to the regulation of the liquor traffic as a phase of the war program. Wilson has been heard many times in Santa Ana and has the reputation of having spoken to more people in the state of California than any other individual, except former Governor Johnson. Since the beginning of the war he has devoted himself to urging a complete military victory over the Prussian military autocracy.

There was some uncertainty as to whether Mr. Wilson would deliver the address announced on account of the death of his son, Gladstone Wilson, on the aviation field at Sacramento last week. As reported in the Register, the young man fell to his death through one of the machines in squadron formation losing control 3500 feet in the air.

Mr. Wilson returned home and his itinerary was cancelled until Thursday night, when he resumed it at Pasadena. He spoke to two great audiences at San Diego Sunday.

"Over the Top Against the Liquor Traffic and Help With the War," is Mr. Wilson's subject. His secretary who arrived today characterized the address as a great war speech. He also expressed the hope that every father and mother of a soldier boy might hear Mr. Wilson.

Through the loss of his son, Mr. Wilson has paid the supreme sacrifice of the war and his secretary states that Mr. Wilson's attitude is one of inspiration and comfort to every one who must pay the same price in the world struggle.

Those in charge of the meeting tonight expect a great audience to hear the famous speaker.

BOUND AND GAGGED, FALLS FROM WINDOW

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Bound hand and foot and with a gag in her mouth, Mrs. Walter Grover fell from a window of her home late last night and suffered a broken leg and possible internal injuries when she struck the sidewalk.

Mrs. Grover told the police that two burglars bound and gagged her before robbing the house. Unable to summon aid she crawled to a window and fell through to the street.

BOLSHEVIKI 'SHARPLY REJECTS' ALLY EFFORT

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 17.—M. Tchitcherin, Bolshevik foreign minister, has sent the following note to neutral diplomats in reply to their protest against the soviet government's treatment of foreign and political prisoners:

"I sharply reject every intervention from neutral capitalistic powers favoring the Russian bourgeoisie. I consider every attempt by neutral representatives to exceed the limit of lawful protection of their countrymen's interests as an attempt to support the counter revolution."

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF POISONS from your body. This done you can live to be a hundred and enjoy the good things of life with as much "pep" as you did when in the springtime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret.

Watch the kidneys. The kidneys and digestive organs are the main causes. The kidneys filter and purify the blood. All the blood passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. They strain or filter out the impurities. That is their work. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the "poisonous" wastes and deadly uric acid accumulations from your system. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules at intervals and you will always be in perfect working order. You will feel strong and vigorous. Nerves and muscles will be elastic and your face will radiate youth and health. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories at Haarlem, Holland.

They are not a patent medicine, but a guaranteed remedy which has been used by the sturdy Dutch for over 200 years and which has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races in the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three sizes.—Adv.

BOYS AND GIRLS: JOIN NUT BRIGADE AND FIGHT THE HUN

Boys, here is another way you can do your bit—and girls, too! Uncle Sam's War Department has called upon all boys and girls to collect peach, plum and cherry pits as well as all kinds of nut shells for use in making carbon for gas masks.

If you want to get a whack at the kaiser, just join the nut brigade. We need volunteers—young boys and girls, old boys and girls, fair, dark, tall, short, freckled, fat, slim—all boys and girls. There are hundreds of pounds of fruit pits going to waste, that should be saved to help the boys "over there" withstand the gas attacks of the enemy. Boys and girls, if you never knew how you could join our patriotic army at home, here's your chance—try it.

Start it at your own home and then get your neighbors to help. When you have a fair amount collected, report to the county farm advisor, who will furnish you with bags from the War Department.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Young People of Poly High Busy Themselves in Various Activities

Miss M. Birdenia Henry, director of war activities of Santa Ana high school, makes the following interesting reports of the summer work:

The members of the Junior Red Cross of the Polytechnic high school have been busy, this summer, helping in Red Cross activities or working on farms, in canneries or factories. The following is a brief report of the work done by the members of the P. T. A. and friends:

Report of department of sewing and knitting: Eighty new garments made by members of the Poly Red Cross and Parent-Teacher Association; 61 pairs of socks and five sweaters made, by thirty-two knitters; 62 garments, food, vegetables and fruit donated to Salvation Army; 42 garments (new material, also) made for district relief; $85 worth of articles, left from Girls' League Luncheon, donated to the Red Cross Shop.

The Juniors gave luncheons every Thursday from June 27 to August 7 and assisted in serving dinners for drafted men, July 22 and August 6. Cones, sold August 6, brought in a tidy little sum. From these activities there was realized $155.81, which was donated to the Santa Ana Chapter, American Red Cross.

August 26 and September 4, dinners were served the drafted man, who left on those days.

Owing to the generous response of the people of Santa Ana for donations, the Juniors have cleared $82.11, which has been paid for the material for the eighty new garments, sent the Belgian Relief committee.

Fifty high school girls and twelve teachers have helped serve the luncheons and dinners. One hundred and nine people have donated food and assistance of other kinds. A complete list of those, who have assisted since June 27, will be placed on "War Activities" bulletin board at the opening of school.

"The Red Cross can ask no person anything too big to give. Send our boys the fuel, and they will supply the steam."

We thank all for hearty co-operation and will call again, but above all things, we appreciate the voluntary offers of service and donations.

M. BIRDENIA HENRY, Director of War Activities, Santa Ana High School.

DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON

Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner Hostess First Meeting Travel Section Yesterday

Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner was hostess yesterday to the First Elbell Travel Section at a most delightful luncheon served at one o'clock, this being the opening meeting for the season.

The hall and living room were especially attractive with bowls of glowing yellow dahlias, autumn treasures of the flower garden that seem to have stored up a wealth of summer sunshine for the cool gray September days.

The dining table was centered with a cut glass bowl of fragrant pink carnations and ferns, and the candles, cakes and candies were also in pink and white. Autumn leaves gave a suggestion of the coming fall.

In preparing and serving the delicious luncheon, Mrs. Baumgartner had the assistance of her sisters, Mrs. Doak of Riverside and Mrs. Ella Calmer, and of her lovely young nieces, Mrs. Caleb Smith of Los Angeles and Miss Mary Lida Doak of Riverside.

Following the luncheon a business meeting was held and plans for the winter's work made and discussed. The Travellers will continue their policy of last year of making monthly contributions to the Red Cross, and will offer their services to the Red Cross dining room for the Mondays for one month, as they did last year.

Plans for the year's reading were also discussed but not definitely settled.

A most enjoyable visit and exchange of summer reminiscences concluded the afternoon.

Mrs. Baumgartner's guests included Meses. Arthur Ames, H. R. Bristol of Owensmouth, J. W. Bishop, H. C. Davies, M. F. Heathman, J. J. Roper, Stephen Ross, John L. Dryer, E. B. Smith, W. M. Smart, Terry Stephenson, I. M. Sproull, George S. Smith, W. L. Tubbs, L. L. Shaw and I. W. Van Cleave.

Missionary Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society holds its meeting with Mrs. J. W. Taylor, 406 South Birch street, on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Subject, "Christian Patriotism." The program is to be given by the Uncle Sam Chapter, Mrs. E. A. Bell, keywoman. The mothers and wives of "Our Boys" on the Honor Roll will be special guests. All women of the church and congregation cordially invited.

Congregational Mission Meeting

The missionary department of the Woman's Union of the First Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. M. M. Crookshank, 802 French street, tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. An interesting program has been prepared and all the ladies are cordially invited.

Returns From Florida Trip

Mrs. James E. Livesey, Jr., returned yesterday from a four months' visit in Jacksonville, Fla. She has been there visiting her husband, Lieut. Livesey, and her brother, Dale Talbott.

James Livesey was one of the first boys from Santa Ana to enlist and was first sent to Camp Kearny in June, 1917, and was then sent from there to Camp Johnston, Jacksonville, last December and was there an instructor in the Motor Car Theory School, later being sent to Officers' Training School, where he received his commission some weeks ago.

He is now commanding a Motor Truck Company in a motor supply train and has left for overseas duty.

Mrs. Livesey reports having a fine time but that she prefers the Golden State to that of Florida for her home.

Tomorrow Amayllis Day

Tomorrow will be Amayllis day at the Red Cross shop and the young women in charge will sell the stalks of lovely flowers at the armory for the good of the cause. Three hundred stalks were presented to the committee and today some of the delicate blossoms were sold to the merchants to beautify their stores and to take to their homes.

Spurgeon Class Not to Meet

FORMER CLERK FOR STATE LEGISLATURE HELD ON BURGLARY

At Preliminary, No Defense
Put In By J. A. Beek,
Accused Man

J. A. Beek of Balboa, formerly a clerk in the California legislature, has been ordered held to answer for trial in the superior court on a charge of burglary. Justice Cox conducted the preliminary examination. Attorney J. C. Burke appeared for Beek, who offered no testimony at the preliminary.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cheeseman of Balboa testified that their cottage was entered, and that two chairs, a marine engine, blankets, a mattress and other articles found at Beek's cottage were articles stolen from the Cheeseman cottage.

William Ulrich, City Marshal Porter, A. N. Smith, F. P. Walton and A. W. Jackson, all of the beach city, were witnesses for the prosecution. The testimony included statements to the effect that Beek said he bought the articles from a fisherman named Porter, who used to live at Newport Beach and who has not been located. Beek is out on bail.

JUDGMENT GIVEN FOR SMASHING OF AN AUTO

Last night Judge Thomas gave judgment of $600 in favor of J. S. Matthews of Los Angeles against C. D. Andrews of Denver, Colo. Last July automobiles owned by the two litigants crashed together near San Juan Capistrano. Matthews said that Andrews circled around another machine when Matthews was approaching. Andrews put in an answer declaring that Matthews was to blame, but Andrews did not appear at the trial. Matthews' case was handled by the Southern California Automobile Club, of which he is a member.

ASKING FOR NON-SUIT IN ASSESSMENT FIGHT

This afternoon Judge Thomas is hearing arguments in a motion for non-suit in the action brought by a number of property owners for setting aside an assessment made by directors of the Santiago Storm Water district. REDLANDS YOUTH HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT Justice Cox held Fred H. Reams of Redlands to answer for trial in the superior court. He is charged with burglarizing the West End theater. Witnesses stated that money had been missing a number of times. Finally he was caught by Deputy Sheriff Miller as he was taking away a sack with $40 in it. Reams' mother, a widow, furnished $1000 bail for Reams. Reams has been around Santa Ana all summer.

SHERIFF DEALS WITH STRIKING MEXICANS

A small sized strike among Mexicans working in the beets at the ranch of Earl Gardner near Bolsa was organized this morning, but was soon stopped by Sheriff Jackson, who was called to the place. Jackson got the men to return. There were thirteen in the striking bunch.

The trouble seemed to be more a misunderstanding on the part of the Mexicans than a desire to cripple the farmer. They are men recently imported from Mexico and they thought they were not getting all that was coming to them, a portion of their wages being held back, as provided for in the contract, until the work of harvesting is completed. Jackson took an interpreter with him, and after assurance by Jackson that they would get all that was coming to them the men returned to work.

AUSTRIA 'PEACE' MOVE CLEVER BUNKO GAME

Willum and Charley Are Just Trying to Save Their Necks
From Their People

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 17.—Many deep thinkers see in Austria's peace move one of the cleverest bunko games the central empires have yet conspired to get together to spring on the Allies. They believe it is nothing more than a concerted move by Emperor Wilhelm and Charles to save their thrones by throwing the blame for continuation of the war on the Allies and leading the dispirited Teutonic troops to believe they must keep up the fight, however sick of the war, in order to "defend their homes from invasion by jealous and covetous enemies."

They hope the Allies will see the trap before they plant their feet in it, as they already have done more than once before.

Germany and Austria are heartily sick of the war. Their leaders realize if they are to get past the winter without direct trouble something desperate must be done immediately. General Von Ludendorff in a secret order declares the troops already are talking of a revolution after the war and means of accumulating ammunition for such use.

German statesmen openly hint at danger to the dynasty itself. The public is already murmuring because it was deceived by promises of world domination—if it would only back up the military party for a final offensive, which when loosed in March resulted ultimately in the biggest disaster yet visited on Germany.

Evidence points toward all Germany and Austria rising to their feet and crying to the kaiser: "Look what your dreams of conquest brought to us!"

The interior situation in Austria and Germany is extremely critical. A peace move is most imperative. Not that it will bring peace. They hope the Allies will indulge in fire brandish talk of wiping the central powers off the face of the map before talking peace—this to be read nationwide with the notion: "You see we want peace, but the Allies scorn our offers; nothing remains for us but to fight unless you want the Allies to trample you under foot."

SAVE FRUIT PITS AND HELP LICK THE HUNS

Boys and girls, men and women of Santa Ana—do you want to help the American soldiers and those of the Allies fight off the gas attacks of the Germans? You can do it. Listen! Poison gas was one of the first fruits of German kultur. It stings, blinds and kills. Charcoal or carbon made from fruit pits and nut shells is used to neutralize it.

The Government needs carbon. It asks the boys and girls of America to save the pits of peach, apricot, plum, cherry and prunes and the shells of hickory, walnut and butternuts. Collect and dry thoroughly in the sun and have an abundance ready when the drive is made.

Two hundred peach pits or seven pounds of nuts produce enough carbon for one gas respirator. Carbon is made from fruit stones and nut shells. Early in the winter, the Junior Red Cross of the high school will try to co-operate with the Government in this matter, so everyone is requested and urged to have a good supply of pits and shells ready, when called for. Every pound will help, so please think what a German gas attack means and don't waste valuable material.

HUN - BOLSHEVİK UNION PROVEN BY AMERICA

German Gold Shown Responsible For Reds' Agitation
Among Russian People

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Secret activities against the United States and the Allies of the German-paid and controlled Bolshevik government are the subject of confidential documents from Russia obtained by the American government.

One of the documents, a terse note from the German General Staff, to the Council of People's Commissars, discloses that as long ago as November, 1917, when the Russian regime still was regarded as an ally of the nations at war with Germany, the Germans were brusquely requiring Lenin and Trotsky to furnish information regarding the amounts and places of storage of supplies received by Russia from America, England and France.

Socialists Double-Crossed

Others tell of the launching in January and February, this year, of a Bolshevik peace and Socialist propaganda against the United States, England and France at the direction of the German intelligence service. This was at the very time that Scheideman, the powerful German Socialist and world Socialism apostle, was in communication with his Russian brothers regarding the destruction of the traces of the party's business relations with the imperial government.

The intelligence service required the Bolsheviks to send to the Allied countries through neutral Europe "comrades" under assumed names, and with false neutral passports, to preach their doctrine of disorganization and to carry on campaigns of "counter-revolution, sabotage, looting, etc."

Plans of the Germans for sending three submarines, disassembled, by rail overland to Vladivostok for service on the Pacific are disclosed in a communication of the German High Seas Fleet General Staff to the commissars.

Agitators on Pacific

Another of the naval communications reveals a scheme conceived in January of employing Russian ships on the Pacific under the Russian flag to carry agitators and "agents-destroyers" to the United States, Japan and the British colonies in Eastern Asia.

Personal notes from the German intelligence service to the commissars describe the assault upon and robbery of the Italian Ambassador in the streets of Petrograd in February last in a vain effort to get possession of important papers believed to have been in the Ambassador's possession.

Other notes tell in detail of the watch kept on the American and other Allied embassies.

LOCAL BOY FINDS GERMAN SOLDIERS CHAINED TO GUNS

Was 54 Days in the Trenches;
Huns Deliberately Shoot
Red Cross Workers

A highly interesting letter has just been received from a Santa Ana boy who is seeing real fighting with the Hun in France but who insists that his name be withheld from publication. He tells of being fifty-four days at a stretch in the trenches and dug-outs without even a change of clothing and the entire time under the incessant fire of the enemy. A great advance was finally won, however, which marked the first big gain of the Yankees. He told of one attack in particular made by a platoon under his command upon a machine gun nest and of the veritable hail of bullets through which they had to pass and from which they miraculously escaped. Once they found the German gunners chained to the guns, and on another occasion he tells of seeing the Germans deliberately shoot down our Red Cross men as they were aiding the wounded.

He writes that it would be impossible to describe the thoroughness with which the Hun devastates the country, cities and villages through which he retreats. Whole forests of trees, many of which are from two to four feet in diameter, are razed to the ground by the heavy artillery fire. Fields of wheat are mown clean by the machine guns, and the villages and towns are but piles of blackened stone and plaster.

He comments at length upon the rare beauty and charm of the untouched French rural districts and says that all the boys consider it a privilege to defend "la belle France" against the further ravages of the foe, and to have saved the great and beautiful city of Paris.

RITCHIE, EVANGELIST, CHARGED AS DISLOYAL

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Sept. 17.—A. Ritchie, evangelist, was in jail here today awaiting his turn to explain alleged seditious statements made at a tent meeting he was holding here.

Ritchie opened his meetings Sunday and reports reached the Santa Monica Vigilance Corps that disloyal statements were being made by the speaker. A committee of vigilantes attended the meeting last night and when Ritchie was well into his address, they removed him from the platform and took him to jail.

CROP. MARKETS

GARBAGE MATTER TO BE SETTLED
MONDAY

Los Angeles Man Sends Out Letter Urging Thirty-cent Mark Be Set

Between now and October 10 the directors of the California Walnut Growers' Association are to set prices at which walnuts will be offered for sale this year. As usual, the prices will be fixed after a wide investigation and complete reports upon market conditions and crops at home and abroad.

Before the prices are set, the central association will have reports from its representatives in Europe. Manager Thorpe of the association has been in the East investigating market conditions there. It is expected that he will return home in time for a meeting of the central association directors, called for association headquarters in Los Angeles on Thursday of this week.

Representatives of the Santa Ana association have nearly always been in favor of making the price conservative enough to be sure that the entire crop would move.

Nearly every year there is an effort, with more or less organization behind it, to make a boost for radical high prices. The directors at the time of setting the prices hear all sides of the situation, and reach a decision based upon the information at hand.

Last year the price was twenty cents a pound for No. 1 soft shells and twenty-four cents for banded walnuts.

A letter has been sent out, probably to papers throughout Southern California where walnuts are grown, by Charles H. V. Lewis of 3405 South San Pedro street, Los Angeles, urging that a high price for walnuts be set this year. This letter is sent out in advance of the European and eastern reports of conditions. The argument made by the Los Angeles man reads as follows:

"The price to be set for this year's walnut crop is at this time an important matter, not only to the growers but to the people of this section as prosperity of the growers means general prosperity to us all.

"A large part of the walnut money comes here from the East and we all know that the East is now flooded with war money and profits and can well afford to pay for their fruits and nuts, and we would make a great mistake in setting our prices low.

"We are justified in getting good walnut prices when our money is going east in great quantities to pay a hundred per cent rise in meat, leather, clothing, manufactured goods and in fact, everything; also, at home we are paying a hundred, or more, per cent rise in milk, butter, eggs, feed, grain, ice and so on indefinitely, not to mention the increase in cost in tools and labor, and the vast war taxations we all have to bear; so we-walnut growers must get good prices, not as profiteers, but to hold our own with the world.

"Do not fear that there will not be a market for walnuts; the country is bare and there will be a shortage, as the present crop will be found below the guess, and foreign walnuts will not reach our country this year to any extent.

"Indications are that 30 cents or more for firsts would be necessary to allow the grower a fair profit under present conditions."

WOMEN'S LAND ARMY
TO HARVEST WALNUTS

POMONA, Sept. 17.—Shortage of help this year will probably necessitate calling upon the Women's Land Army for help in harvesting the walnut crop, according to Manager Wolstencroft of the walnut association.

Quite a walnut crop is expected this year and labor will be exceedingly short, especially with the coming of the new draft.

According to Manager Wolstencroft groups of women, comprising ten or more, with a motor in charge, will be sent out from Los Angeles. They are to work in the packing houses and will not be required to do heavy work.

MILLION CANS TOMATOES

POMONA, Sept. 17.—Approximately a million cans of tomatoes will be furnished by Pomona to feed the soldiers. An order has been received at the Pomona Valley Canning Company from the Government giving instruction to the effect that all the solid pack tomatoes must be reserved for army use.

It is estimated that about two million cans of tomatoes will be canned in Pomona this season, and that the solid pack fruit will run from 45 to 50 per cent of this amount, according to the quality of the fruit. This means that the tomatoes left for the public will be the second grade, or what is generally known as tomato puree.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Catcher William Killefer of the Chicago Nationals has been officially notified to report at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., on Tuesday. Killefer's battery mate, Grover Cleveland Alexander, for whom the Chicago club paid $50,000, already is in France.

JARUSO TOO BUSY FOR HONEYMOON

ENRICO CARUSO AND HIS BRIDE, WHO WAS MISS DOROTHY PARK BENJAMIN OF NEW YORK

Matrimony shall not interfere with Enrico Caruso's making of movies. Therefore is postponed his honeymoon. The famous grand opera singer is too busy. The three or more thousand dollars flowing in each week from the movies will have to serve as consolation for the honeymoonless Caruso wedding. It is believed it will.

The new Mrs. Caruso, says the tenor's secretary, isn't missing the honeymoon stanza of the wedding program. She is much interested in the filming of Enrico, and would not for the worlds, much less a honeymoon, have him disappoint the millions of movie fans throughout the country.

SEWER TO OCEAN
FROM ANAHEIM PROBABLE

Believed to Be Only Possible Solution of Dilemma In Mother Colony

ANAHEIM, Sept. 17.—That some definite action must be taken in regard to abating the nuisance created by the odors from the sewer farm, was reported by Trustee McFadden at the last meeting of the trustees.

Trustees McFadden and Dwyer appeared before District Attorney West a few days ago to explain why the nuisance had not been abated within one hundred days as ordered by the court and to show cause why the trustees should not be held in contempt of court.

It appears that the trustees are in a pickle. The new septic tank which has been constructed has failed to eliminate the nuisance to the satisfaction of the property owners in that vicinity, and some other method must be found.

The only way out of the dilemma is an outfall sewer to the sea. This will require a considerable length of time as the question of a right of way is a very serious one.

In order to show that they were sincere in their desire to abate the nuisance, the trustees appointed McFadden and Backs to work in conjunction with City Engineer Steward in securing data and to establish a route for an outfall sewer to the sea.

District Attorney West wanted something more than the assurance of desire on the part of the trustees to remove the nuisance and the action by the trustees, it is thought, will satisfy the attorney that an honest effort will be made to comply with the order.

It is the opinion of many that it is not the odors from the sewer farm that is troubling the complaining property owners as much as the existence of the sewer farm in that section.

POLICE UNIFORM
MUST GIVE WAY TO FARMER
GARB

John Ryan Is Going Back to the Farm to Raise Beans

John Ryan is going to "lay down the fiddle and the bow" and "pick up the shovel and the hoe" on the first of October, when he will discard the uniform of city policeman for the garb of the honest farmer. Ryan tendered his resignation as a member of the police force to the City Trustees at their meeting last night, to become effective on October 1.

Ryan has been on the force for seven years and four months and when he discards his uniform he will return to work that he was engaged in many years ago and the game which he knows thoroughly. He will raise beans.

In the adjustment of leases on the San Joaquin ranch he has been able to secure a lease on 165 acres of bean land. The lease is southeast of the ranch house.

"I'm going back to the country—back to the land," said Ryan today. "It will cost a goodly sum of money to get started, but I know the game and believe I will be better off financially and in many other ways."

"This is the day of the farmer—the day when he receives the recognition he should always have received, and believe me, I now know that it is the life."

He has purchased the old shed of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company at Spurgeon and Second and will use the lumber for barn purposes. The John Wall house on East Third has also been purchased and will be moved to the lease. There are no buildings whatever on the lease, and Ryan will have to establish his equipment full. An eight-mule team will be the power he will use in preparing his ground for next season's bean crop.

Ryan has made good as a police officer and there is no doubt among his friends but that he will make good in his farming venture.

RED CROSS TO SEND CLOTHING FOR BELGIANS

Santa Ana Chapter Is Given a Minimum Quota of 1500 Pounds

Santa Ana Chapter of the American Red Cross through its various organizations is going to collect and ship not less than 1500 pounds of good used clothing to be distributed in Belgium among destitute people in territory occupied by the German hordes since 1914.

The American Red Cross has agreed to supply the Belgian Relief Commission with not less than 5,000 tons of clothing, and to do it at once.

The Pacific Division of the Red Cross has received a quota of 400 tons, and in the distribution of that 400 tons among the chapters of the division, Santa Ana chapter has been given a quota of three-fourths of a ton as its minimum.

Santa Ana chapter officials are not going to be satisfied with merely filling the minimum quota. They want to get as far over the minimum as it is possible to do so.

The Junior Red Cross has already put in motion its machinery for collecting second-hand clothing. It already has no less than 400 pounds of clothing that will do go into this shipment. When Miss Hazel Bemus, chairman for the Junior Red Cross, was notified yesterday by the chapter chairman that a quota had been given the chapter to fill, Miss Bemus declared that the Junior Red Cross was ready to meet the emergency, and already in articles on hand had a good start upon the quota.

Today notices are being sent to each of the branches of Santa Ana chapter, and each is urged to collect as much suitable used clothing as is possible, and to deliver the articles at the Red Cross headquarters in Santa Ana between the dates of the drive, September 23 to 30.

Article demands for this shipment may be left either at Red Cross headquarters on Birch street or at any of the Santa Ana school houses, during next week.

The two north front rooms of the Red Cross headquarters will be utilized for the packing of the garments.

Mrs. J. E. Gowen has been put in charge of the drive for the local chapter, and will have the assistance of the various departments of the chapter.

A bulletin issued by Pacific division headquarters describes the kinds of garments needed, as follows:

Men's wear—Shirts (preferably of light colored flannels); undershirts; undershirts; trousers; coats; work suits (overalls); suits (three-piece); shoes; jerseys; overcoats; sweater vests; socks (sizes 10 1/2 and 11).

Women's wear—Skirts; drawers; corset-slips; blouses; petticoats; shirts; overcoats; suits (two-piece); shoes; phanorae; cloth hats; knitted caps; stockings (sizes 7 and 8).

Boys' wear—Shirts; union suits; undershirts; coats; trousers; suits; shoes; overcoats; jerseys; socks (sizes 1 to 9).

What Not to Send

Garments of flimsy material or gaudy coloring; ball dresses, high-heeled slippers, etc.; stiff hats, either men's or women's straw, dress or derby hats; anything containing rubber, such as raincoats, rubber boots, etc. (Rubber heels can easily be removed from shoes). Books, toys, soap, toilet articles. Notes or communication of any sort positively must not be sent.

"Do not repair garments. A hundred thousand destitute women are eager to earn a small pittance by repairing and adapting to the needs with which they are familiar."

"Send only garments made of strong, clean, durable material."

"There is no limit. Send all you can gather."

AMERICAN TO BECOME A CITIZEN OF CHINA

A PACIFIC PORT, Sept. 17.—Professor P. D. Tripp of the University of Tien Tsin, China, expects to renounce his American citizenship and become a Chinese citizen, he said today following his arrival from China. Professor Tripp was accompanied by his Chinese wife and their child.

The professor said his reason for doing so is that he expects to spend the remainder of his life in China and wants to participate in the public affairs of the nation. He says he will not complete his Chinese citizenship until the war is over, and will register for the American draft immediately. He is 36 years old. A law passed by congress in 1907 forbids Americans dropping their citizenship while the country is at war.

Professor Tripp expects to remain in the United States two years to prepare textbooks for Chinese schools.

COUGHED FIFTEEN YEARS

Coughs that hang on and grow worse in the night and weaken the sufferer are relieved by Foley's Honey and Tar often more than by any other remedy. R. F. C. E. CONVENTION
AT HUNTINGTON
BEACH 3 DAYS.
OCTOBER 4-6

Banquet Will Open County Gathering; Theme Will Be "Our Victorious Army"

Christian Endeavorers of Orange County are rapidly completing arrangements for their annual convention which is to be held in the Christian church at Huntington Beach beginning Friday evening, October 4 and lasting through Sunday evening, October 6. The convention this year will incorporate a number of interesting and novel features that will make it a thoroughly enjoyable and helpful period to the young people of the County who are planning to attend, it is claimed.

A committee representing the County Union met with the entertaining society at Huntington Beach last night in making final plans. According to the present arrangements, the convention will open with a banquet on Friday evening. This will be followed by a stirring program opening the convention.

Recreation Saturday

Saturday afternoon has been planned to give give a liberal amount of time for recreation and a good time, with an opportunity open for the young people to visit the various exhibits on display in the Annual Fall Fair at Huntington Beach. A winner bake on the beach will be an attractive part of the program on Saturday evening.

One of the features that it is believed will prove of especial interest this year, is the plan to have the different societies of the County stay together during the three days of the convention in house-party groups. Plans are being completed for securing a number of houses located near together and in doing this it is believed that the young people will have an opportunity to have a good time and will also be able to stay throughout the entire session of the convention, thus getting more completely into the spirit of the program.

A Patriotic Theme

Preparations for the program are in charge of the County Union President, John A. Henderson, Jr. Mr. Henderson states that the theme of the convention will be "Our Victorious Army," and that the patriotic and military spirit will be carried out in all meetings. An especially attractive feature of the program arrangements, according to Henderson, will be the music. A young man from the navy, stationed at the Submarine Base, San Pedro, has been secured to lead the singing. He styles himself the "Submarine Sky-pilot," a title which surely is striking enough to produce more than the ordinary amount of interest and enthusiasm.

12 CENTS ONLY THE
OPENING LIMA PRICE

OXNARD, Sept. 17.—A limited quantity of lima beans grown by members of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association is to be offered on the market at 12 cents a pound. These are the first limas of the 1918 crop to go on the market. The directors of the association did not fix 12 cents as the price for the crop of limas, but simply as the price for their first offerings. The price in the future will be determined according to supply and demand.

The California Lima Bean Growers' Association controls over half of the lima beans grown in the United States.

The amount of lima beans that can be marketed this month will be less than the amount marketed in September, 1917, because threshing is not so advanced as a year ago. The association now has only a few carloads of limas in the warehouse.

H. Clay Miller, who is in charge of beans for the Food Administration, spoke to the bean growers and dealers of Southern California at a meeting in Oxnard and said that the law of supply and demand would govern the bean prices this season except, perhaps, in case of beans needed for the army and navy.

NORTH ISLAND BEST IN WORLD, SAYS EXPERT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—That the North Island army aviation school at San Diego is the finest in the world was the statement of Brig. Gen. Guy Livingston, British aircraft training inspector, who today was en route from Los Angeles to Kelly Field, Texas. He has just completed five months of visiting airplane schools in Italy, France, England, Canada and the United States.

Lieut. Douglas Campbell, American ace, accompanied General Livingston to Kelly Field.

COTTON PICKING WONDER

BLYTHER, Sept. 17.—He is only 8 years of age, but they claim he is the star cotton picker of the United States. His name is John Pool, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Pool, cotton raisers. The lad can pick off 175 pounds a day with ease, and 200 pounds when he gets limbered up. He is contestant for a cotton-picking prize in a local county fair.

WINTERSBURG
FINGER IS CRUSHED
BETWEEN WAGONS; IS AMPUTATED

Ninety-three Pupils Register at Oceanview School on Opening Day Monday

WINTERSBURG, Sept. 17.—Allan Gardner of Bolsa, a brother of D. D. Gardner of this place and himself also a former resident here, had a finger amputated Tuesday and remained over night at the hospital, being able to return home Wednesday morning.

The accident, which caused the loss of the member, happened while Gardner, who is working with another brother, Earl, was hauling beets. Several loads were being hauled at the time by tractor when the connection between two wagons snapped and they jammed together, catching Gardner's hand between and splitting open the finger.

Cow Choked to Death
Bert Hoover of Smeltzer had the misfortune to lose his cow Tuesday night, the animal having choked to death when its head became caught between the water-trough and a projecting board. No struggle incidental to the accident was heard by the family and they have no idea what time in the night it happened, the first they knew of anything wrong being when they went into the corral Wednesday morning and found the cow dead.

Mrs. Bradbury Returns Home
Mrs. E. R. Bradbury, who underwent an operation for tumor of the neck on Thursday of last week at the Santa Ana hospital, returned home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Bradbury is recovering rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Gardner and family visited Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Gardner's sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nichols.

Oceanview School Opens
The Oceanview school opened Monday morning with ninety-three pupils in attendance in comparison with one hundred and ten for last term. The present enrollment is slightly under the average for several terms past.

Prof. H. O. Ensign has twenty-two pupils in his room, which is composed of the seventh and eighth grades. Miss Ethel Dwyer has nineteen in the fifth and sixth; Miss Ruth Jordan, twenty-seven in the third and fourth, with twenty-five little folks in the first and second grades under Miss Helena Dimock. Each member of the faculty is the same as last term and are in charge of the same grades also.

142 Men Are Registered
Thursday's registration was held for this precinct at the Bradbury-Miles store with E. R. Bradbury and Fred Mallett as registrars.

One hundred and forty-two registered altogether, there being sixty-nine Mexicans and eighteen Japanese among the number.

Those of the age of 45 outnumbered those of 15 by three, there being ten of the 45 class and seven of the 15's.

Many Willing Workers
An unusually large number of workers met at the local Red Cross room Thursday afternoon to assist in finishing the fifty-piece allotment of garments that it was necessary to turn in at headquarters this week, and owing to the numerous willing workers the garments were finished.

The collection of jams and jellies for shipment to the Camp Kearny hospital has grown rapidly and seventy-five glasses was the tempting array on exhibit at Thursday's meeting. This is exactly three times the quota allotted.

Two Wintersburg boys, Guerdner Nichols and Henry Brush, were among the company of men who entrained recently for Camp Kearny.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nichols have received a letter and a card from their son, Guerdner, who went into training at Camp Kearny last week. He is well satisfied with army life and was well over the effects of his first "shot in the arm" the last heard from him.

Mr. Nichols, W. W. Blaylock and D. D. Gardner, father and uncles of Guerdner, attended the banquet given on Wednesday evening in honor of the boys prior to their departure Thursday and a number of other relatives from here attended the farewell tendered them at Birch Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and family, brother-in-law, D. D. Gardner, and niece, Miss Frances Blaylock, were in Santa Ana Thursday morning when the company entrained.

Mrs. G. W. Nichols entertained as luncheon guests at her home last Friday Mrs. Ed Hyder and Mrs. A. Stefanzi of Wintersburg.

The "Sunset" Lodge of Royal Neighbors met Friday afternoon at which time a new member was initiated. A pleasant social time was also spent over tempting refreshments of ice cream and cake. Wednesday was the regular meeting day but a postponement was made until Friday.

Mrs. W. F. Slater had as guests Sunday and Monday of last week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom Clay and daughter, Ruth, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Clay's sister, Mrs. Barratt, and son, Alan, of Imperial.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillett of Anaheim were Wednesday night visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Davis.

Mrs. J. J. Graham had as a visitor at her home Thursday her sister, Mrs. D. O. Stewart, of Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robinson entertained as their guest from Thursday until Saturday, Miss Mary Philpot of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore of Orange visited at the homes of relatives in this community on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Farrar were business visitors in Huntington Beach Wednesday.

Mrs. A. H. Moore will be glad to talk over with any member of the local Sunday school a proposed eastern trip which she intends to start in October and for which she is looking for additional members for her party. The trip will be via the Lincoln highway and will extend over several months' time.

The call of the callopie is soon to be heard here, for the Barnum and Bailey circus will erect its acres of canvas in Santa Ana Friday, September 20, giving afternoon and night performances with a two-mile-long street parade the morning of that day.

A safe and sane circus in which no pretty girl is shot from the cannon's mouth or hurled through the air in an automobile, and in which the slide ride on a wire from the top of the tent is done by three Chinamen sliding at express train speed attached by their queues is promised by this circus floating the gonfalon of Barnum and Bailey. The greatest show on earth has undergone a great change from the days of compelling complexities of alluring aliteration on posters, and death-defying dare-devil doings under the big tent. No longer does a beauty stick her head in the mouth of a roaring beast. The whole show has been softened and sweetened. The appeal of beauty and skill has taken the place of the lure of sensation, so that now the circus is a happier circus for everybody. None of the old-time glitter and glamour will be lacking and the traditions that keep the circus a national institution will all be there to preserve the atmosphere. The ringmaster's whip

It was the 49th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morrow, the tenth wedding anniversary of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Morrow, and the fourteenth wedding anniversary of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler and also Mrs. G. C. Morrow's birthday anniversary.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Morrow of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hutchinson and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler and three children of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Christenson, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Morrow, Mrs. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Morrow and two children, T. B. Morrow, S. W. Morrow, S. W. Hutchins and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morrow.

The honorees were the recipients of many wishes for health and happiness and the guests all expressed a desire to assemble next year to help Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morrow celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Clyde Feldner, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Feldner of West Orange, was painfully but not seriously hurt when he was struck by a machine while playing in front of his home on West Chapman avenue, west of Main street.

Clyde and his twin brother, Glenn, were playing with a little wagon beside the highway in front of their home. The former was struck by a passing machine, his back being bruised and one ankle sprained.

Reports of the accident vary. From the Feldner home it was stated that they believed the machine was a light truck, the driver of which leaned out to shake hands with a passing auto load of soldiers, thus steering out of his course. The local police reported that the machine was a stage running between San Diego and Los Angeles and that the driver turned around to shake hands with one of his passengers.

YANK BLOW WAS

TO GERMANS

Attack Known Imminent, and Better Men Won; Huns
Fear For Iron Mines

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Sept. 17.—It is unquestioned that Hindenburg expected the St. Mihiel attack. The Strassburg Post announced several days ago that it was imminent. Thus the American success cannot be explained away as a surprise even in Germany, where the public is insistently told the Americans are worthless and that "nothing is to be feared from those Barnums."

Wherever the Americans swept forward it was a case of the better man winning. It will be one of Germany's most bitter pills that the Hun higher command did not spare its troops in the effort to halt the Americans and French. Undoubtedly the Germans feared less for Metz than for the Briey and Longwy ore basin, from which, with Luxembourg and the annexed portions of Lorraine, nine-tenths of Germany's iron is obtained.

These districts give the enemy a total of 60,000,000 tons. Without these mines they would have only 7,000,000 tons. Lacking occupation of the Briey basin Germany could not have fought so long. Possession of Briey, Longwy and Thionville is absolutely necessary to Germany if the Teutonic troops are to be kept in the field. If any of these districts are placed under Allied gun fire Germany will be crippled by just that much.

For this reason they madly flung troops into the breach in an effort to arrest at any cost any thrust in the direction of their cherished mine fields.

Foch's first objective in the American objective apparently was only the pinching off of this salient. Beyond the base of this pocket there is very powerfully defended country—line after line of trenches and behind that ring upon ring of fortifications, all about Metz.

Foch knows his game and the Allies know he will play it masterfully.

AT CHRISTMAS TO RAISE MEMBERSHIP
IN THE RED CROSS

Henry P. Davison, chairman of the War Council, announces that in the week of December 16 to 23, inclusive, there will be a Christmas roll call of the whole American people for membership of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Davison authorized this statement: "From December 16 to 23 lists will be open for every American in every corner of the world so that it may be known that the whole nation at home and abroad is registered for the cause. The American Red Cross wants again to give the world notice not only that America can fight, but that to the last man, woman and child we stand for mercy, honor and good faith among nations."

"At the close of the Christmas membership campaign of 1917, there were 22,000,000 Americans enrolled in the American Red Cross. There are also 3,000,000 members in the Junior Red Cross. This year both as a Christmas observance and as a renewal of the nation-wide pledge of loyalty, the American Red Cross will again put before everyone the duty of standing by the flag; for the American Red Cross, in this great fight for peace, represents the whole spirit of what we are fighting for."

"This will not be a call for money. It will be a summons of Americans everywhere to line up for the American ideal. We can not all fight but this one thing everybody can do. The American Red Cross membership fee is $1. Half of this remains with the local chapter to be used for expenses and for relief of our soldiers and their families; the other half goes to the national treasury."

"There will be no allotment of quotas to a community. The quota in every district will be the limit of its adult population. When the roll call comes every American, old or young, will be called on to register and add the weight of his name to the Red Cross message. Let us answer with one voice to the word of President Wilson when he said, 'I summons you to the comradeship.'"

WESTMINSTER RED X
IN ALL-DAY MEETING

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 17.—All members of the Westminster Red Cross are asked to attend an all-day meeting which will be held tomorrow, September 18, at Odd Fellows' hall, when the Junior work will be finished. Each will bring lunch and, if not Hooverizing, a lump of sugar for the coffee, which will be prepared at the hall.

The local Senior quota for the past three months has been finished and there will be no more until October. The quota was seventy-five gowns and eighty-eight were turned in to headquarters. In addition seventy-one glasses of jelly were contributed for the hospital at Camp Kearny.

NEVER WILL PERMIT
ANYONE TO MEDDLE,
SAYS VON PAYER

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 17.—Speaking at a public gathering at Stuttgart Vice-Chancellor von Payer expressed his belief that Belgium can be restored without any restrictions, despatches were said today.

"Real ground for the depression," he said, referring to recent reports of unrest in Germany, "is our belief that prospects of peace are being increasingly postponed and that the possibility of war through another winter must be faced by all belligerents."

"I believe Belgium can be restored without indemnities and without restrictions."

"Who would deny the operations of the Americans against us means an increasing burden?" asked Von Payer. But our enemies still are unable to make good their shipping losses. The more are sent the greater will be the need for ships to supply them. Our task today is to see that the war continues to be waged in foreign countries."

"We cannot return Poland to Russia," the vice-chancellor continued. "We cannot assist Russia in a re-acquisition of Finland. We cannot allow the Russian-Baltic and border states to again be subjected to Russian rule or to be thrown into the perils of civil war and anarchy. We would never permit anyone to meddle in this matter. We will not submit to the entente for its gracious approval or alteration of the Ukraine, Russian and Rumanian treaties."

"We have peace in the East whether or not it pleases our western neighbors. As for the remainder of territorial possessions existing before the war they can everywhere be restored."

NEW SOURCE OF SUGAR
RIVERSIDE, Sept. 17.—A possible new source of sugar is presented in the carob bean, the product of what is more commonly known as the St. John's breadfruit tree, a variety of which has been planted in White Park and along certain streets because of its novelty and shapeliness.

John W. Walters, of Los Angeles, associated with James W. Bryan, of Rialto, have approached the Board of Park Commissioners with a proposal which may lead to far-reaching results. They have requested permission to gather the pods from the trees here for the purpose of experimenting in the making of syrup.

Walters says the pods run very high in sugar content, and are also valuable when converted into meal.

ARMY CAN SEE
GERMANY, BUT NOT AT VERY CLOSE RANGE

And Old Mother Earth Isn't
As Soft As It Always Looks,
Says Rickenbacker

GIMPER, No. 10
(Copyright, 1918, by United Press)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, July 10.—(By Mail.)—"Germany looks the same as France from up above," replied Lieutenant Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, to a question. "We got to look at it quite naturally. Of course we cannot go down low very often. Once in a while the excuse offers itself for making a close inspection of Germany from above. When we get a Heinie on the run and can follow him home we sometimes drive him down near the tree tops if the archies are not too busy."

"Once in a while we take a chance and strafe the German trenches from above. I once got down so low after an attack I could see the men very clearly and could get targets to shoot at. But it is only on rare occasions that we ever get close to Germany and most of our views are from high up."

"It is surprising how much like France Germany does look. Your imagination pictures something different as soon as you cross the lines. There are the same rolling plains and hills and woods and villages. "Civilian activities that can be seen from high altitudes is less, I think, than on our side, though that may be because we fly lower when on the home side. We can see automobiles and trains and strings of wagons now and then on the roads. The German trenches are more in evidence than ours and these stretch back for miles behind the lines. Right up to them though the Germans are cultivating the soil and their farms are easily spotted. The railways look about the same as those on this side of the line. In several places the lines of this side run up to No Man's Land and then are smashed up for a ways, but continue from the German side of the line. It seems there should be some connection."

"No Man's Land usually looks very much plowed up. We are glad to see that, though probably we are the only ones who are. It gives us a definite assurance of where home is. Often you are in doubt and if you happened to cross the lines where No Man's Land is not shot to pieces you are not sure of your position. Some of the boys have gone great distances back looking for towns or landmarks they recognized and one chap lost his way so completely he landed in Switzerland when his gasoline gave out."

"The villages are fairly well battered on both sides, though, unless they are in ruins, you cannot tell from above how much damaged they are. Some are completely obliterated and are but a mass of stone and plowed ground. The larger cities are easily seen and large factories can be easily spotted."

"Germany looks rather peaceful from above and there seems to be little disturbing them back a ways from the line. That is where an airman's point of view is defective. A German and his fields look as soft as ours. Probably they are, which is not very soft. Any field covered with grass always looks soft and you think it would make a fine landing place. When you get down lower and are forced to land on any field that happens to be under a punne, you learn differently. Trees you didn't see stick in the covered field to turn you over. Barbed wire stretches along the country and you cannot see it either. With ordinary breaks of luck you can land safely if you are on the right side of the line when your motor chucks, but what is very important is that ordinary breaks of luck, as one of the boys put it, Mother earth isn't half as soft as you anticipate when you touch her."

He said he wouldn't have lived much longer if he hadn't taken May's Wonderful Remedy when he did, which made a well man of him. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. PLAN TO PRODUCE 7,000,000 POUNDS OF MARMALADE YEARLY

Plans For Nine Factories Now
Nearly Completed; Parent
Plant at Anaheim

In development of the co-operative idea in the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, a new angle is being taken. It is the establishment of the biggest marmalade industry in the world, under the auspices of the exchange. For months the plans for the industry have been in formation, and now the members of the exchange are practically ready for the incorporation and organization. A few minor details are yet to be acted upon by the directors of the Fruit Exchange.

The stock has been subscribed, and orders for a marmalade factory at San Dimas and at Pomona have been given. It is planned ultimately to have nine such factories in different parts of the citrus-growing region of Southern California.

The marmalade production will be run by a subsidiary organization of the parent exchange. The old-established marmalade business of Thomas Crawford at Anaheim has been merged in the new industry. Crawford will be president of the new institution. It is planned in a year of normal productivity of oranges and lemons to make as high as 7,000,000 pounds of marmalade. One concern in England is now the most important marmalade factory in the world, and it produces 1,600,000 pounds of marmalade a year.

The co-operation comes in the fact that the thousands of bushels of cull or waste oranges now sold for little or nothing, or carried out to gulches and dumped as worthless for marketing purposes, will be utilized and made productive of profit in marmalade.

KAISER DOESN'T WORRY VERNE BAKER

Santa Ana Boy Growing Fat
In Uncle Sam's Sea
Service

Verne Baker, son of Mrs. Annie M. Baker, is an ensign, with the position of assistant paymaster on the U. S. S. Lakeside. He has recently returned from a trip to Scotland. Writing at sea under date of August 10, he writes to his mother an entertaining description of scenes in that country. He says that he is in fine health, in fact he is growing so fat that it worries him, and "that if the kaiser could see how little he has troubled me so far, he would throw up his hands in despair and quit." In his letter, he says:

Dearest Mother: This is a copy of the letter which I wrote to Marion and may have a few things in it that would interest you. Will write you again soon after I arrive in Norfolk.

With love,

VERNE.

I am writing now from aboard ship and as this letter will not be censored, I hope that I may be able to tell you more of my trip.

In the first place, our cargo was of a very delicate nature, but as it did not go off, I am now telling you of my experiences. If we had not made port, we would have been among the missing, that's all.

Our trip over was rather uneventful. And not a submarine did I see. One was sighted off our starboard by some of the ships in our convoy about a couple of days out. And then when we were out a couple of days the destroyers and trawlers came to meet us. They helped to give me a feeling that I was protected to a certain extent, at least. We zig-zagged, keeping constantly on the lookout for subs. On the morning of July 21, we began to see ducks and before long we sighted land, just a little more than eighteen days for the trip.

All of the boys came on deck and everyone was happy. We had branched off from the main convoy. Some more trawlers came to meet us and escorted us in the —, which is the northern part of Scotland. It was like going up some deep, wide river. We could see the homes and the people on shore and everything was beautiful and green. An American boat seemed to be quite an event with the natives. All of them waved and shouted to us from the shore and we returned the greetings, as we were glad to see them, too. It was forty or fifty miles up to — where we anchored at night. All of this time there were three lake boats in our convoy, but the other two left us early the next morning, going one place to discharge, while we went to another.

From — we went to —, where we discharged our cargo. — was an old-fashioned sort of a town with a population of about 2000. All of the people around here were Highlanders. Here we went ashore for the first time and as our motor boat came alongside of the pier about half of the town came down to see us land. It seems that this is something of a summer resort in Northern Scotland and there were many people from other cities on a vacation.

Young Men Scarce
It seems that there are no young men at all in this town. Ninety of the young men in town went to war at the first call. The entire company with the exception of two boys was killed. Not wounded or crippled, but killed. It seemed to have given a rather morbid attitude to the people there. And of course there were lots and lots of girls. So many that every man on the ship had at least one or two girls while there.

I drank lots of tea, but had no sugar. Also there is no butter here and everyone must have a meat card before they may buy meats. No one can run a machine unless it be on official government business. And most of the machines over in this country, strange to say, are Fords. A grand old machine.

From — we went to —, which indeed is quite a city. It reminds me very much of Boston. About the same size as Boston; in fact it reminded me very much of Boston in many ways. The tramways are odd looking things. They are double-decked and look as if they would topple over at any minute. And of course they go on the wrong side of the street. There are very, very few automobiles. Now and then I would notice a machine which apparently did not belong to the government, but it seems that it is necessary to have some special license before even a business house is allowed to operate one. Then, too, there is a strange looking automobile which has a gas balloon attached, from which it gets power to operate.

It was a great job in trading our money for theirs, and without fail we were cheated. However, it seems that the American sailors are much better paid than the "Limies," as the English sailors are called. All of our boys had lots of money, and so on their first liberty they started to paint things red and spend all of their money. And the girls! Never did I see so many girls. There were flocks of them. And all of them flirted with us. All of the boys left at least a couple of sweethearts there. It seemed that about 8 o'clock or so all of the young ladies in — would come down town and parade up and down the streets. As a rule they were quite pretty, and all of them seemed to have a remarkable complexion. In fact, I was more than delighted with the girls and was very sorry that we did not get to stay in — more than two days.

Fairbanks, Chaplin, Pickford. They have regular movies there and whom do you think were their favorites? Doug Fairbanks, Charlie

THE MONEY COST OF SUPPORTING THE LOAN

By R. L. Bisby, Orange County Chairman for the Fourth Liberty Loan.

If you are a money lender and you have a thousand dollars out at interest paying you 7 per cent, you get $70 for this thousand dollars. The security upon which the thousand dollars is loaned is more than likely the real property of some individual.

Should you conclude to back your government to the amount of a thousand dollars and find it necessary to sell this note or mortgage you could put the thousand dollars into a Liberty Bond that would pay you $42.50. You would then be contributing $27.50 per annum to the cost of carrying on the war and you would have as security a lien upon each piece of real and personal property within the United States.

Let us see what would be the value of any security for any loan should every man, woman and child in the United States refuse to buy these bonds. A refusal upon the part of the people to purchase these bonds would mean that the men who are now in France would be slaughtered and the Prussian hordes would overrun not only France and England but America as well and once this condition prevailed, what is the value of your security?

Chaplin and Mary Pickford. Just about the same as in the U. S. A. It seemed rather strange to me to see all American stars and all American movie plays. And all of the songs that they sing and whistle are American airs. One of the girls whom I met insisted in singing almost continuously, "Where the Black-Eyed Susans Grow." I stopped and looked in at one of the music shops to see what kind of music was carried. It looked rather strange, not decorated in red, yellow and green, as is our popular music, but rather in some droll white and black design. But the names of the music was the same. There was "Down Texas Way," "I Don't Want to Get Well," and many others, most of them about a year or so old.

It seems that America is quite well advertised. I would hardly say that the people as a whole enthrall as much about us, as expected. Several people with whom I talked informed me that the only soldiers that were real fighters were the Scotch boys. And when I told them that America had come over to finish the war that they had started, they raged and stormed. They, or some of them did, called the Americans a bunch of boasters, and to tell you the truth, they are. Every one thinks that all Americans are rich and money easy to make. Didn't Andy Carnegie go over to America and earn a million dollars in a few years? However, they were interested in America and all of them wanted to come back to America with us. But we told our girl friends that although we would like to take all of them back with us, it could not be. But we promised to come and see them the next trip to —.

Now I am ending this rather long letter to you several days later. We are out about 175 miles from Norfolk and if our good luck continues, I'll mail this soon after I reach port. Evidently there are submarines over on this side, as we get warnings. If I ever do get sunk, I certainly hope that it will be in the day-time, as the idea of going down in the night-time when everything is dark and nasty, does not appeal to me in the least. Have heard practically no news for the past seven weeks and so I am hoping when we do get in that word will have come that the war is no more, and that I can pack up my little suitcase and come back to California.

Would like very much to be on a faster, larger boat, but if need be, I will stay with the good ship Lakeside till the very end. In fact, I am getting sort of used to it and would rather miss it.

528 OIL WELLS DEVELOPED IN THE YEAR

Increase In New Wells Is Less Than Same Period
of 1917

FULLERTON, Sept. 17.—Reports filed with the state mining bureau for the week ending September 7, 1918, show 14 new wells are ready to drill, making a total of 528 since the first of the year. There were 740 wells reported during the same period in 1917.

The record of initial daily production of wells completed in the various fields of the state during July is a good indicator of the contributions that are being made to the state's production. The average daily initial production of wells completed in the Kern river field in July was 20 barrels; in the McKittrick field, 50 barrels; in Midway-Sunset, 70 barrels; in Lost Hills-Belridge, 85 barrels; in Coalinga, 105 barrels; in Lompoc-Santa Maria, 165 barrels, and Whittier-Fullerton, 1195 barrels. Considering the production of wells in the last two areas mentioned the advantage of developing new fields as a means of speeding production is apparent.

"Wild-cattling" carefully guided by engineering and geological advice should be encouraged, as it is largely through such more or less hazardous prospecting that our petroleum resources, to which the Montebello field is the most recent addition, are developed.

In addition to the 14 new wells there were 23 wells reported ready for test of water shut-off; 4 re-drilling and deepening jobs and 3 notices of abandonment.

The German language is spoken by about 110,000,000 people as their mother tongue.

Aside from any patriotic reason, it is good business to protect that which you already have, no matter how small your holdings may be whether that be in personal property, real property or in a position that pays you a salary. It is good business that you spend a part of your income to protect all of your income for the reason that if you should fail to protect, you must lose.

A man who buys $5000 worth of these bonds is contributing the magnificent sum of $137.50 per annum to the carrying on of this war. Can we afford to do anything else than to buy these bonds and insure the ultimate success of our arms upon the fields of battle by providing them with the things necessary to carry on this war? Now is the time when each man, woman and child should think and analyze in detail all the questions connected with this war and with this loan because it is an individual war. It is a war, the responsibility of which is upon the shoulders of the individual and as each individual bears up and carries that part of the burden so collectively as one man we go forward.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR Y. M. C. A. IS ASKED

Secretary Roadhouse Urges
Voters to Approve Amendment In November

Orange county voters are asked to approve a tax exemption measure for Y. M. C. A. property at the November election by County Secretary A. F. Roadhouse, who says that while the Y. M. C. A. is doing such effective work at home and abroad to help win the war, its property in California is taxed and the churches are exempt from taxation.

"The commendable work that is being done by the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers of the Allied armies is known in every corner of the world. Many letters from the front speak of the practical work of the association," said Secretary Roadhouse today. "Military men must be practical, and military authorities can be quoted as saying that 900 men with the Y. M. C. A. are equal to 1000 men without it."

"Not only are comforts afforded to the soldiers as they pass to and from the trenches, and to wounded boys on the field and in the hospitals, but a large measure of consolation comes to the friends and relatives of the boys here at home, through information from the Y-man at the front."

"Many instances might be cited where detailed information surrounding the illness or death of a soldier had come through the Y-secretary in the shortest possible time after the report of the Government, thereby alleviating a part of the agony of suspense incident to the circumstances. Those who have had experience can appreciate most sincerely the service rendered."

"The work of the county Y. M. C. A. here at home is equally practical, though not so critical. We all recognize the importance of a boy starting right. A right start is more essential in morals than in money. It is more important to form character than to reform it. It is better business to prevent juvenile crime than to cure the criminal. It is more efficient to cultivate good habits than to remove bad ones. These are some of the objectives of the county Y. M. C. A. The work is accomplished through boys' Bible study groups conducted one night each week, each group of ten or twelve boys having a Christian man as leader. The leaders are trained for their work in monthly meetings for leaders only, conducted by Professor J. A. Cranston. The boys and the leaders find definite and practical results from these classes."

"The character of the work done in the classes is evidenced by the fact that the high schools of Orange county give a half-credit to any boy who takes the work and passes the examination to the satisfaction of the high school, in any one of three Y. M. C. A. Bible study courses: 'Wrecks and Heroes,' 'Men Who Dared,' 'What Manner of Man Is This?' a study in the life of Christ."

"A large silver loving cup, donated by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, is given each year to the boys group in Orange county doing the best work. The cup was held last year by the Westminster 'Spartans,' and this year it goes to the 'Live Wires' of Santa Ana, a group led by Charles Robinson."

"Further practical results may be observed from the fact that out of the Y. M. C. A. summer camp held last July at Catalina 80 per cent of the boys volunteered individual expressions of hopeful results obtained while at camp, and 30 per cent came home from the camp to unite with their own churches the following Sunday. The Y. M. C. A. emphasizes clean speech, clean sports and clean life among the boys."

"In the face of these practical results both at home and abroad, that can be measured only in terms of life and eternity, the state of California wants to tax Y. M. C. A. property."

"We want our friends to know that the Y. M. C. A. will have a tax exemption amendment on the ballot in November. It is our confidence that if the friends of the Y. M. C. A. are informed of this it will very materially aid in having this amendment passed. The secretary will be glad to have literature sent to any one who wishes to know why the Y. M. C. A. tax exemption amendment should have your endorsement. Phone Orange 491-W, or send your name and address on a card to the Y. M. C. A.

secretary, 77½ Plaza Square, Orange. "The Y. M. C. A. is doing practical religious work. It is the church at work. With the Red Cross it constitutes the arms of the church that surround and comfort the Allied armies. It cares for all men alike, regardless of creed or race. It is supported by volunteer contributions. It is not a money-making organization. Let the Y. M. C. A. tax exemption amendment have your support."

35 CARS OF PEARS FROM TEHACHEPI

TEHACHEPI, Sept. 17.—The first fruit-packing house to be established in the Tehachepi Valley is now working full speed and more than thirty persons are employed packing the large crop of pears now being harvested.

It is expected that more than thirty-five carloads of pears will be sent out of this district for eastern points within the next few weeks.

There are now 3500 acres planted to pears and apples in this district, and about 40,000 acres more that are susceptible to development for the same crops.

EXPECT RECORD PRICE FOR '18 NAVAL CROP

REDLANDS, Sept. 17.—That the opening price in Navel oranges this year will break all records was the opinion of the experts of the Mutual Orange Distributors of this city expressed at the annual meeting which was held at the offices in this city. It was stated that the navel crop in Southern California will be larger than the first reports, probable in the neighborhood of 60 per cent of a normal crop. The oranges are now of good size and indications are that there will be a fair shipment for the Christmas pool. There were several thousand cars of off-bloom Valencia last year shipped from November to February and for that reason the opening price on navels was lower than the price later in the season, something very unusual.

This year there are no off-bloom oranges to be shipped and the markets will be cleared of California oranges before the Christmas navels are shipped. C. P. Earley, general manager of the distributors, said he had received optimistic reports from all sections.

Short talks were made by A. Gregory, former general manager; A. M. Pratt, sales manager; J. A. Stewart, claim and traffic manager; A. D. Knight and S. R. Pratt of the field department. The distributors ship about 5000 cars of navels in an average year.

WAR-TIME CHRISTMAS SHOPPING PROGRAM

Early Christmas shopping is the keynote to government regulations for Christmas shopping. It is a war-time holiday program and co-operation of retail stores and patriotic societies is requested by Edward A. Filene, a director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The six rules laid down for the retail stores are as follows:

Retail interests are not to increase their working forces by reason of the holiday business over the available forces employed during the year. Normal working hours will not be lengthened during the Christmas season. Retailers will use their utmost efforts to confine Christmas giving, except for young children, to useful articles. Every effort will be made to spread the period for holiday purchasing over the months of October, November and December. Deliveries will be restricted and customers will be asked to carry their own packages wherever possible.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS IN TRIANGLE PLAY, "THE AMERICANO."

Popular Star at the Temple Theatre This Evening

"The Americano," in which Douglas Fairbanks is seen as the star at the Temple Theatre tonight, is a play of stirring adventure in a South American country, upset by a revolution.

Fairbanks, of course, is the center of things. He appears as Blaze Deringer, the play having been made from the novel of that name by Eugene P. Lyle, Jr. Blaze goes to the Republic of Paragonia to represent some American mining interests. The principal reason why he undertakes the commission is that he has had a glimpse in New York of the beautiful daughter of the president of Paragonia and is exceedingly desirous of her further acquaintance. On his arrival in the country he finds the president in jail, the prime minister in hiding and the company's offices demolished. There remains of the office staff only one survivor, a negro porter, who has spent most of his time since the political upheaval in a cellar, joining forces with this lone survivor, Blaze sets about establishing conditions of peace, righting the wrongs of the imprudent officials and generally bringing about a state of affairs where he can do business for his company and marry the girl of his choice.

It is enough to say that in order to carry out this program he has to go more things than Douglas Fairbanks has ever done before in five reels of picture. A pitched battle with four Paragonian athletes who endeavor to squelch him is one of the interesting features of the picture. "The Americano" is said to be one of the best plays, from the standpoint of dramatic action, that Fairbanks has had, besides affording him a full opportunity for the exercise of his unique talents.

A complete change of vaudeville and a brand new Christie comedy complete the program.

CROWN PRINCE ON INCREASE CROPS RUN WRITES HIS PAPA URGES COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Letter Published In French Newspaper Contains Much Humor

The following was taken from a French newspaper, and is going the rounds of the press:

"On the Run, Somewhere in France, 'Everywhere in France, 'All the Time,'

Dear Papa: I am writing on der run as der brave and glorious soldiers under my command have not seen der Rhine for so long dat dey have started back that way, and of course I am going mit dem. Oh, pap, dere has been some offel dings happened here in France. First, I started in my big offensive which was to crush de fool Americans, but they know so little about military tactics dat dey vill not be crushed just like I vant 'em. I sent my men in der fight in big waves, and ven dey got to de Americans dey all said "Boo" as loud as they could holler. Vell, according to vat you have always told me, de Americans have turned and run like blazes. But vat do you tink? Deem fool Americans don't know anything about war, and instead of running de odder vay, dey came right toward us. Some of dem was singing about "Ve won't come back till it's over, over dere," or some oder foolish song, and some of dem were laffing like fools. Dey are so ignorant. But dey are offel reckless mit der guns, and ven dey come toward us it was den my men took a notion dey wanted to go back to de dear old Rhine. Ve don't like de little dirty Marne river, anyhow. And oh pap, dem Americans use such offel language. Dey know nothing of kultur and say such offel dings right before us. And dey talk blasphemy, too. Vat you tink dey said right in front of my face? One big husky from a place dey call Missouri, he said—oh, papa, I hate to tell you vat an offel ting he said—but I can't help it; he said, "To hell mit der kaiser!" Did you ever hear anything so offel? I didn't tink anybody would say such an offel ting. It made me so mad. I wouldn't stand and hear such an offel ting so I turned around and run mit de odder boys. Vas I right? Vat? And, oh, papa, you know dem breastplates vot you sen us—can you sen some to put on our backs? You know ve are going de odder vay, now, and breastplates are no good, for de cowardly Americans are shooting us right in der back. Some of our boys took off der breastplates and put 'em behind, but de fool Americans are playing "De Star Spangled Banner" mit machine guns on dem plates. Can't you help us? You remember in your speech you said nothing could stand before the brave German soldiers? Oh, papa, I don't believe dese ignorant Americans ever read your speech, for dey run after us just like ve was a lot of rabbits. Not you tink of dot? Can't you send dem some of your speeches right away? Dey don't know how terrible ve are. Can't you move my army back to Belgium vere ve von all our glory? My men can vip all the vimmen and children vot dem Belgians can bring us. But dese Americans are so rough and ignorant. We can't make 'em understand dat we are the greatest soldiers on earth, and ven ve try to sing "Deutschland Ueber Alles" dey laugh like a lot of monkeys. But ve are getting de best of de Americans. We can outrun dem. Papa, if ve are not de best fighters on earth ve are sure de best runners. Nobody can keep up mit us when we tink der dear old Rhine, and my army never did tink so much of dot dear old river. Let me know right away vot to do by return postoffice.

Larger Acreage and Elimination of Destructive Pests Should Be the Rule

That Orange county could not respond to the extent of northern counties in the wheat and sheep projects, as outlined at the conference of Farm Advisors held at Sacramento, was the sentiment of a meeting of the directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau at the Farm Advisor's office. It was proposed, however, that the bureau and Farm Advisor make every effort to urge and outline increased production of all essential crops adapted to Orange county conditions, through both increased acreage and reduction of rodents, pests and disease.

Professor Backard was present and pointed out the necessity of the southern counties co-operating to formulate and put through increased crop campaigns. He announced the Conference of Southern California Farm Advisors and Bureau delegates to be held at Riverside, October 3 for the purpose of outlining uniform projects on cover crops, soil moisture, systematic pruning, poultry, fertilizers, disease, pest and wood control, etc.

Director S. W. McCollough was appointed delegate to represent Orange County Farm Bureau at the Riverside conference with Farm Advisor Wahlberg.

District Attorney West was invited to explain several legal questions that have confronted the bureau.

The following committees were appointed:

Auditing committee—J. B. Cleghorn, James Smiley and S. W. McCollough. Legal committee—H. B. Woodruff, W. Dean Johnston and H. E. Wahlberg.

Farm Advisor Wahlberg called attention to the desire of the Huntington Beach Fair Association to have the co-operation of his office and Farm Bureau in getting desirable exhibit material for the fair, dated October 2 to 5, inclusive. President Woodruff suggested that it would be to the interest of the Farm Bureau to assist in the successful execution of the fair.

ANY GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATE MAY JOIN STUDENT ARMY CORPS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—There is considerable confusion and misunderstanding among youth 18 and 19 years old regarding the Student Army Training Corps, said Adjutant General J. J. Borree, and many youths desirous of enlisting in the corps are ignorant as to how to proceed.

"Any youth who is a grammar school graduate or who has attended high school—even for a short period of time is eligible to enlist in the Student Army Training Corps," said General Borree. "It is not necessary that the youth be a high school graduate as is generally believed."

General Borree said that the Student Army Training Corps will be established at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, and the University of California, Berkeley, and that youths desiring to enlist in the corps should address their applications to the Student Army Training Corps, in care of either university.

LIBERTY LOAN TANK WILL COME TO SANTA ANA

The "Million Dollar" Liberty Loan Tank, Victory, will tour Southern California and appear in every city and community during the Liberty Loan Campaign.

This monster tank is the same tank that was the central feature of the Liberty Loan Campaign in Los Angeles during the third drive. From its hurricane deck a million dollars' worth of bonds were sold by the moving picture stars of the big moving picture studios of Los Angeles. So successful was this feature during the Third Loan that Director of Publicity Janss was besieged with requests to have the tank appear in Southern California cities.

The big tank will be escorted through the entire tour by military motorcycle outriders and will carry a machine gun and be fully equipped with spot lights, flood lights and every contrivance necessary for the Liberty Loan work. It is stated it will travel between the different communities on its own power. The tank will be in Orange county on October 1.

MILLION IN BEANS FROM 8000 ACRES: NOW HARVESTING

Huntington Beach News: There will be more lima beans threshed in this section of the country this year than any previous year, notwithstanding the fact that the estimated yield will fall below that of last year and some other years since the lima became one of the staple crops of the valley land ten years ago.

The bean experts estimate that the 1918 crop covers approximately 8000 acres, and that the average yield per acre will be close to fifteen sacks, making an aggregate of about 120,000 bags, weighing 80 pounds each. A conservative estimate of the acreage runs between 7000 and 8000, and the yield between 110,000 and 120,000 sacks.

The opening price fixed by the Lima Bean Growers' association is twelve cents per pound.

Taking the lowest estimate of the total yield—110,000 sacks—the growers will receive checks for their crops totalling the sum of $1,056,000. Each sack will be worth $9.60. However, some of the crop will be placed in sacks of 100 pounds each.

This big crop will practically all pass through the two warehouses in this vicinity—the Golden West at Smetzer, in charge of A. L. Gans, and the Huntington Beach Warehouse company, of which Trustee Richard Drew of this city is manager.

The Golden West Celery and Produce company, owners of the Golden West ranch at Smetzer, are the largest growers of limas in this section of the state, outside of the Irvine ranch, south of Santa Ana. The company finished cutting its crop of 720 acres Thursday, and H. Woodington, superintendent of the ranch, states that he anticipates a yield of four or five bags per acre less than last year, when the average was 23 1/2 sacks of 100 pounds, equal to 29 1/2 80-pound sacks. Taking Mr. Woodington's estimate for this year, the yield will be close to 20 sacks of 100 pounds or 25 of the smaller, by far the largest expected yield in Orange county when the number of acres is considered, which is an indication of the great fertility of the soil of this famous ranch and the ability of Mr. Woodington as a superintendent.

At present prices, the crop on this ranch is worth $172,800, or $240 per acre.

The yield in this section is considerably larger than on the Irvine fields, where threshing has been in progress for two or three weeks, with a yield ranging from eight to twelve sacks per acre.

It is believed that the total yield this season will be about twenty per cent more than that of last year.

There is also an increase acreage this year of Lady Washington and French Whites, most of which is on mesa land, and some very good yields have been reported.

Last week was one of the busy weeks of the year with bean growers, and most of the big crop has been cut. One thresher started work Wednesday and several others will begin this week, and beans will begin being hauled to the warehouses at a lively rate.

THE NEW DEMOCRACY DISCUSSED IN PULPIT

A large and very appreciative audience, consisting mainly of friends and relatives of soldiers and sailors, gathered at the Christian church last evening and listened to a chapter from Donald Hankey's book on "An Experiment in Democracy" and a short address on "The New Democracy" by Rev. Lloyd Darsie. In the current events period preceding the address, Rev. Darsie read several letters from soldiers that made a deep impression on his hearers. The announcement was made that two of the honor roll boys of the Christian church, Elmer Hawkins and Paul Tucker, were among the wounded in France. In speaking on "The New Democracy," Rev. Darsie said:

"The war is a great leveler. Artificial distinctions and barriers are bound to fall. A man is a man in the army. The accident of birth or wealth or social standing count for little among enlisted men. The downfall of class feeling and spirit in England has amazed the world. The same democratic movement is apparent in America. Liberty, equality and fraternity are chief topics of discussion among our soldiers and when the boys come home, we may expect that they will have a free hand in promoting the new democracy that really means 'the brotherhood of man'."

Rev. Darsie is in receipt of interesting letters and information from the camps that will be given at these special services for friends of soldiers and sailors on Sunday evening.

VALENCIA MARKET STRONG, HEALTHY

The weekly citrus situation, as reviewed by the Los Angeles office of the Fruit World, follows:

A strong and healthy market condition continues to prevail on Valencia oranges. Offerings in all markets are extremely light and are eagerly sought for by the trade. Prices are high, yet the situation is so strongly maintained that buyers are willing to pay extreme prices for attractive Valencias and all offerings are rapidly absorbed at figures strongly favoring sellers. Best lines are selling from $8.50 to $10.80; good choice from $8. to $9; standards from $7.50 to $7.75, with considerable activity.

F. O. B. quotations are on a basis of $7.50 to $7.75 with considerable activity reported on this basis.

The market is receiving the bulk of the shipments, as is invariably the rule at this season of the year when the smaller private sale markets are devoting more attention to fresh summer fruits.

Crop conditions based on September 1 findings show some slight improvement in the condition of the orange crop for the state as a whole. Navels improved in Riverside and San Bernardino counties, but declined two points since August 1 in Central California districts.

A trip through the citrus districts at this time finds many of the orange packing houses closed. Those operating are finding it difficult to secure adequate help under present labor conditions. Some districts are trying out "farmettes" on picking gangs, but the success of this venture has not been determined as yet.

The Florida Citrus Exchange is reported to be booking orders for oranges on the basis of $3.50 F. O. B. shipping point and $3 for grapefruit. Orders for 250 cars Florida oranges are said to have been booked on the above basis. Grapefruit shipments from Florida are expected to commence in another week.

The market on lemons is lifeless. The trade are stocked up with lemons that were taken on at high prices and are trying to work off this accumulation before placing further orders. This condition has caused retail prices to remain high and is responsible for the present lifeless condition of the market notwithstanding the sharp decline in values over three weeks ago.

Pickings during the month of August and September have been heavier than usual, causing liberal shipments and adding to the available supply. The supply of foreign stock has also been heavier at this time than normally, owing to the slow time in shipment, some steamers being out three months before unloading at New York. This has thrown the August supply of foreign lemons into September and until this accumulation of surplus stock is cleaned up, no great activity in lemons is looked for. Weather conditions in the East have also been unfavorable and has not tended to improve matters any.

As a whole, the situation at this time is probably the worst in years as the low price now being realized on lemons is on sound stock that is selling on a parity with stock showing heavy decay in other seasons at this time.

Supplies of California lemons at this time are adequate to take care of the demand from all markets and the 128,000 boxes of foreign lemons available may be considered as a surplus.

No sales of foreign lemons were held the past week. Reports from New York on Thursday stated that the cargo of 45,000 boxes, shipped on June 1, was unloading and the condition of the fruit had not been determined. The cargo that was reported afloat at sea is expected to show some salvage fruit that will probably be offered this coming week.

OUT SQUIRREL POISONING

POMONA, Sept. 17.—Squirrel poisoning has been the order of the day for some time on the Lewis ranch near here. A ton of clean rolled barley was purchased, and sufficient strychnine to affect the entire ton. Then this was placed, in carefully measured quantities, into a barrel churn and slowly revolved. The mixture was perfect—every grain having its proper proportion of poison. When a few grains were placed near a squirrel hole, the little rodents would come running out to devour the good meal. Some of them "keeled over" right on the spot, but numbers of them ran back into their burrows. The state agricultural office estimates that five squirrels are dead in the burrows for every one found outside. It is thought that probably 3000 squirrels were slaughtered on the Lewis ranch within a few days.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—The public employment bureaus of the state of California filled 16,689 positions during the month of August, including 1500 positions given women.

BEACH SEWER PLAN AWAITS APPROVAL OF WAR BOARD

Work Will Be Undertaken Immediately When Bonds Get Governmental O.K.

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 17.—The most extensive municipal improvement to be attempted in Southern California during the year will be undertaken by this city at once, provided the war issues committee indorses the project as being essential and gives its approval. The city trustees recently awarded to the James D. Kneen Contracting company of Santa Monica the contract for the construction of a complete sewer system embracing approximately eleven miles of mains and involving the expenditure of $173,000. The formal award of the contract has been made and all proceedings in connection with the proposed enterprise are now in the hands of the war issues committee at San Francisco for approval. The installation of the sewer system is deemed a paramount essential, especially in view of the fact that the early future is to see at least one pretentious ship-building project launched here.

The sewer is to be constructed under the Vrooman act and for this purpose two-thirds of the entire city has been included within the assessment district. In all, about 4500 separate pieces of property are involved. The assessment district embraces about $1,750,000 of assessable property. The improvement would serve a winter population of about 1500. This increases to 10,000 during the summer months.

The sewer, with 56,000 feet of mains and 9000 feet of house connections, is to cover the entire peninsula and will cross under the Santa Ana river to deliver its waste into a septic tank to be located on the east side of the bay near the glass works. The river is about 400 feet wide at high tide at the point of crossing. The contract includes septic tank and pumping stations. It is estimated that eight months will be required to complete the system. Work will be started immediately following the approval of the project by the war committee.

All mains are to be of concrete, twenty and eight inches. The pipe alone will weigh 1400 tons. In the construction of the manholes, 200,000 bricks will be required.

HIGH GRAPE-PRICE RECORD

DINUBA, Sept. 17.—Highest prices ever paid for table grapes from this district have been reported from the New York market where five cars of Malagas from the Alta section grossed more than $10,000. The high record was made by one car, which brought $2270. Tokays also brought an unusual figure, prices of as high as $2.50 per crate being reported for extra choice fruit.

The Best Advertisement In the World

IT IS THE TICK OF THE CLOCK.

It says only one, short word, but it says that word over and over.

Here the tick is loud, there low.

But always millions on millions of clocks are saying it.

It never stops.

It speaks to a baby's ears, and to the dying hours of an old man.

It speaks in time of joy; in time of grief; in time of idleness, or struggle and stress; in time of peace, or time of WAR.

It never stops.

Always it is telling the old, old story of the clock, "Time Flies."

Always it is repeating the stern lesson of life, "The World Forgets."

It never stops.

And it has made the clock the best known thing in all the world.

Such is the power of reiteration.

Such is the power of persistence.

Such is the power of constancy.

Call the advertising roll of honor, the world-famous advertising, alive to answer.

None ever stopped. All have told their story over and over, and still are telling it.

Advertising stopped is advertising dead.

Advertising brought back from the grave must foot again the long, old road from the very beginning.

NOW is the time to advertise—the only time.

Advertise to-morrow when to-morrow is NOW.

Listen to THE TICK of the clock, as it tells you: "Time flies. The world forgets."

NOW is the time to advertise.

NEW YORK CHICAGO WASHINGTON

The men who have accumulated wealth from their orange and lemon groves practice and advocate annual fumigation.

DO YOU SUPERVISE YOUR FUMIGATION?

FUMIGATION OF CITRUS TREES is done at night, in the dark. Are you also in the dark as to whether the proper schedule is actually applied, and the proper labor performed?

HYDROCYANIC ACID GAS performs its efficient function of killing scale-pests when the proper amount of dosage is applied. There are probably very few dishonest fumigators—we personally don't know of any—but there are many careless workmen, and this fact is not peculiar to the fumigating business, as your own experience will tell you.

This is a matter of mutual interest. Keep it seriously in mind.
